

The Nevada, with a general cargo from Seattle, was proceeding up the Delaware to Philadelphia in a heavy fog when she lost the channel and swerved into the tanker, stoving in holds Nos. 1, 2 and 3. The Nevada backed off and lay at anchor in the river several hours while damage was surveyed, and then proceeded to her pier. An estimate of the damage was not available immediately. No one was injured.

JAPAN REJECTS CONCLAVE PLAN

protests of governments against Japan's war methods but a rejection in advance of any action that might be taken by international agreement.

The statement left no room for doubt that Japan is convinced her course is justified.

The government made the statement through a foreign office spokesman. It rejected unqualifiedly the idea of any effort to mediate at this stage of hostilities. It reaffirmed Japan's intention to fight until China attains her alleged anti-Japanese policy.

CRUISER AUGUSTA AGAIN IN DANGER

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—(UP)—The United States Cruiser Augusta was in line of fire again today as Chinese airplanes bombed the vicinity of the Japanese airport at Yangtzepoo, across the Whangpoo river from the city.

The planes drew a 10-minute furious anti-aircraft fire, which sent the sailors on the Augusta scrambling below decks from their movie show.

Heavy fighting continued north of the city.

A Chinese spokesman revealed that Chinese troops, fearing a trap, advanced cautiously west of the city center after the Japanese suddenly split their lines and the Chinese were unable to sight a single Japanese soldier.

The Japanese frequently employ similar tactics all along the front, trying to lure the Chinese into a trap where they would be blasted by artillery.

CHINESE CLAIM SMASHING VICTORY

NANKING, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Details of what they said was a smashing Chinese communist victory over 10,000 Japanese-Mongolian troops in Shansi Province, were revealed today by Chinese sources.

The Communists—Now the Chinese Eighth Route army—reportedly routed the Japanese army on Sept. 24 and 26 under the leadership of Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan.

The Japanese lines "crumbled," according to Chin Pang-Hsien, former chairman of the Chinese Soviet government at Yenmenfu, who has aligned himself with the central government.

"The victories were due to the use of mobile tactics," Chin said. "The Communists fought in major engagements, on Sept. 24 and Sept. 26, in which they cooperated with the Shansi Provincial army, the former Reds attacking the Japanese flanks."

Japanese Lines Crumble

Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan personally was at the front directing operations.

Chin said that the flanking operations were responsible for the Chinese victories.

"The Japanese lines crumbled under this swift, surprising blow," he asserted, "resulting in 10,000 Japanese-Mongol troops being disarmed."

He declared that as a result of the victories the Chinese took up their original positions in the strategic Pingyinkuan pass of the Great Wall.

ARRANGE RITES FOR GERONIMO'S CAPTOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Brigadier General Robert Alexander Brown, 77, retired U. S. cavalry officer, who, as a lieutenant, brought about the surrender of Geronimo, famed Apache Indian war chief.

The officer and his troop of scouts trailed Geronimo from Arizona across the border into Mexico and then back across the border before they finally captured the Indian and his followers.

The general was born in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, and graduated from West Point in 1881. He was made a brigadier general when he went overseas during the World War to serve with the 42nd division.

ARMY PRISONERS IN BREAK; GUARD HURT

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Four military prisoners disarmed a sentry today, wounded a military guard, seized a car and escaped from the First Sam Houston military reservation.

The prisoners, working on the reservation, overpowered the sentry and took his sawed-off shotgun. When guards of three other labor parties fired on the escaping prisoners, they returned the fire and wounded Private Edward R. Rosemark.

and Teachers, gave the workers a message of encouragement.

J. B. Tucker, president of the Community Chest, thanked the workers for their presence and declared that it was the best attended and most enthusiastic "kick-off" campaign meeting he had ever attended.

Leaders Introduced

Entertainment was provided by Howard Youel, baritone, accompanied by Miss Vera Marie Osborne, and by community singing led by Mr. Youel.

Campaign leaders were introduced, final instructions were given the workers, and the teams and committees were asked to return on Monday noon when the first reports of the campaign will be taken at a luncheon meeting at the ELKS club.

NAVY BOMBERS IN FLIGHT TO SEATTLE

SITKA, Alaska, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Six giant U. S. Navy Martin-type bombers, comprising the patrol squadron VP-16, took off from here at 6:45 a. m., PST, today on a mass non-stop flight to Seattle.

Comdr. C. C. Champion was in charge of the flight, which has just completed six weeks' active duty at the U. S. Navy air base recently constructed here.

The ships were scheduled to arrive at Sand Point naval air base, near Seattle, late today.

MURDERERS SEEK PAROLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Applications for parole by seven convicted murderers will be heard this month by the state board of prison terms and paroles, it was announced today. They included James McFarland of Contra Costa county, James Lee of Sacramento, Robert Scott and Cecil Wright of Marin, Emmet Coll of Alameda, Charles Chico of Kern and O. E. Roe of Tulare.

JEEP ARRIVES IN SANTA ANA FROM SOUTH AMERICA JUNGLE

BY FRANK COOEY

"Dynamite" is in town. "Dynamite" is the "jeep" owned by Johnny Martin, and is some form or other of all the animals gathered into one that live in South America. It is rumored that the little fellow can predict the outcome of football games and other sporting events.

At present "Dynamite" is the guest of Police Chief Floyd Howard and is reported to be one of two such animals in the United States. He arrived in Santa Ana yesterday.

According to Webster's dictionary, the "jeep" is of the family Procyonidae and is a nocturnal, arboreal, carnivorous mammal, with a long prehensile tail, and is known as the kinkajou. The writer can personally vouch for the tail if not the rest of the description.

"Dynamite" is about the size of two big cats, has a tail nearly three feet long, feet like a bear, fur like a raccoon, roots in the ground like a pig, and, to date, has sent three men "on the water wagon forever."

He is a friendly little chap and is so pleased when his back is scratched that he has to bite his fore-paws to keep from laughing out loud.

Martin had the kinkajou given to him by a friend and has been offered $300 for him.

"DYNAMITE"

Below is pictured "Dynamite," the South American kinkajou that is commonly called "the jeep." "Dynamite" is owned by Johnny Martin and has been loaned to Police Chief Floyd Howard for a few months.

NEW UNION DOLLAR STORE IS OPENED

Announcement was made today of the opening of the Union Dollar store at 301-03 East Fourth street tomorrow by P. F. Thiebaud, manager.

The new dollar department store is located in the same building that housed the Thrift department store and will have a complete line of general wearing apparel including men's and boy's sports and ready-to-wear, complete infant and children clothing line, and one of the most complete stocks of lingerie in the community.

Thiebaud has been in Santa Ana for two and one-half years and has been in the department store business for the last 15 years.

NATION AWAITS BLACK'S REPLY

or two other close associates of Black

Guard Against "Leak"

Utmost care was taken to prevent any "leak" in the contents of Black's speech. Contrary to earlier indications, however, advance copies of the address will be made available to newspapermen shortly before the Justice begins speaking. The advances were expected to be supplied about 8 p. m., an hour and a half before the justice goes on the air.

Capital observers, convinced that Black will give a direct answer to the charges published while he was vacationing in Europe, were agreed that probably, in effect, he would make one of three statements

Vital Questions

1. That he does belong to the Klan by virtue of a life membership "pass."

2. That he does not belong now, and never did.

3. That he does not belong now but did at one time.

These observers also believed that whichever answer Black made he also would cite his record in national affairs since election as a Senator in 1926 to refute charges that he is unfit to serve as a member of the nation's court of last resort.

SPAIN PARLIAMENT IN SESSION TODAY

VALENCIA, Spain, Oct. 1.—(UP)—The Loyalist parliament was convened today with 34 deputies present to revive the constitutional government of the republic.

President Diego Martinez Barrio made an ardent plea for cooperation after which Premier Juan Negrin took the floor. He was given an ovation which lasted 10 minutes.

Martinez Barrio offered an "advent salute to our brave warriors on land, sea and in the air."

While parliament was meeting the guns of strong Nationalist lines roared along the Madrid front. The insurgents made repeated thrusts on Madrid in the Jarama, Padro and Coruna road sector. The government asserted that the Loyalist lines held firm.

PREDICT PRICES OF MEAT WILL DECLINE

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Meat prices will drop by the end of the year, the Institute of American Meat Packers predicted today.

Recent high prices for both pork and beef resulted from scarcity of feed corn, an institute spokesman said. He pointed out this year's was a bumper corn crop, "and as the increasing supply of choice, well-fattened steers reaches the market, retail prices will go down."

CIRCUS CLOWNS VISIT HOSPITAL

clowns are big hearted fellows who realize that a kid is only a kid once and a circus in town is only a heartache if a kid is confined to the hospital—so they are giving their leisure time and, incidentally, a pay of their own hour to entertain and of Mygela, girls who, other chokes down lumpy.

And hope that, next year, he able to have some of other kid's have on circus skin. Thousands of people crowded downtown streets during the afternoon to see the giant street parade presented as a prelude to the circus. Boys and girls, men and women lined the streets and were generous with their "cheers" and "ahs" as the 30 elephants, the two camels of camels, open dens and cages of wild animals and carved allegorical floats passed through the streets of the business district. Later in the day they formed a steady stream of humanity south on Main street to the circus grounds.

PERMITS WELL OVER 1936 IN TOTAL VALUES

Despite a $17,000 decrease in building permits in September as compared to August, the general totals of both the number of permits and the total evaluation for the first nine months of 1937 are well over the same period of 1936.

Totals for the first nine months were 390 permits with an evaluation of $1,019,771 as compared to 539 permits and $861,005 in 1936.

Variety Is Wide
September totals for 1937 were 131 permits with an evaluation of $99,142 which is lower than August's total of $16,278 but the number of permits is 28 higher than last month.

Indication of the versatility of permit holders in Santa Ana is evidenced by the fact that out of 23 various types of permits issued, Santa Anans have taken out 17 different types of building permits themselves, instead of relying on a contractor for the work.

$10,000 TREE DAMAGES ASKED

Chemicals sprinkled by the Union Pacific railroad on its tracks between La Habra and Fullerton, to destroy weeds, was washed upon the adjoining orchard of the Security Investment company, of Whittier, and destroyed a number of trees, the investment company alleged today in a superior court suit for $10,000 damages.

The Los Angeles and Salt Lake railway and Union Pacific were named in the complaint, which claimed that 1934 crops were lost and trees destroyed when a chemical named as boron, used on the railroad tracks, dissolved in the rain and floated on to the orange, walnut and persimmon orchard of the plaintiff, south of La Habra.

TROPHIES IN NEWPORT BEACH LIGHTS TOURNAMENT AWARDED

Winners in the Newport Tournament of Lights received their trophies at an informal luncheon given by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Grand sweepstakes prize was presented to William Dunkerly, secretary of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. With Dunkerly was Walter Garbutt, who built the prize winning float.

Long Beach, which took second place in the same class as Pasadena, was represented by Verne Wickham. Laguna Beach, winning the award for service clubs with a living painting of "Blue Boy," was represented by Capt. George A. Portus of the chamber of commerce and Ray Fisher of the Lions club.

Award Prize to S. A.
Present for Huntington Beach, which won first in cities under 10,000, were William Gallienne, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Dr. Lawrence Whitaker, a director. Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, accepted the trophy won by Santa Ana, this getting first prize in the division for cities of 10,000 to 50,000.

Present to welcome the guests were Mayor Harry H. Williamson and Capt. W. J. Brown, chairman of the civic division of the tournament, and President J. A. Beek acted as chairman. John A. Siegel, who handled the floats and barges, was on hand to receive suggestions for future occasions and Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Chamber of Commerce, accepted for the Anaheim chamber a cup won by the Anaheim chamber, which was not represented on account of the illness of Secretary George Reid.

Suggestions Offered
Many informal suggestions for future tournaments were advanced, the most important being a proposal to create a special group in Southern California to cooperate with local committees in planning a greater civic division.

DAMAGE ACTION AT H. B. OFF CALENDAR
The damage action of 14 men and one woman of Silver Acres against members of the Bates family was set off calendar when a motion for an amended complaint was granted by Judge Donald J. Dodge at Huntington Beach yesterday.

The original complaint named Dora and Nora Bates. When the case was opened for trial yesterday, motion was made by Harry Westover, attorney for the plaintiffs, that the name of Nora Bates be stricken and the name of Lucille Bates substituted. Lucille Bates now has the right to demur, after she is served with amended complaint papers. The 15 then would have a right to file answer to the demurrer.

The joint suit of the Silver Acres residents is an outgrowth of the water controversy which raged at Silver Acres some months ago, the action being based on charges of malicious prosecution. The group was charged by Lucille Bates with crossing her land without permission and ousting her from it. This action was dismissed and the action, in which each of the 15 plaintiffs seeks $100 damages, was filed.

COBURN RITES HELD AT ORANGE

Last rites for Judge and Mrs. L. F. Coburn, victims of a tragic automobile accident at Fallbrook Sunday, were held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in Orange, the city in which the former held office as city judge. Services were conducted by Dr. Robert Burns McCauley, pastor of the church and graveside rites for Judge Coburn were in charge of Orange Grove lodge No. 293 and were conducted by R. C. Bunch, worthy master. Knights Templar of the Santa Ana commandery acted as an escort.

Sallie Coe Mueller sang the 91st Psalm and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," with Percy Green at the organ. In speaking of Judge and Mrs. Coburn, Dr. McCauley told of the deep affection which had existed between them during the 57 years of their married life. Mrs. Coburn was a native daughter of California and she was born in Smithville, Calif., and spent her girlhood in Northern California. Judge Coburn served as first president of the Orange Chamber of Commerce and held an office as district attorney in Del Norte county and city attorney of Orange and a number of other cities.

Pallbearers for Judge Coburn were Mayor A. Croxton Boice, Councilmen C. M. Carlson, J. E. Riley and Henry Bandick, T. H. Elljah, city clerk, and George H. Franzen, chief of police of Orange. Those acting as pallbearers for Mrs. Coburn were W. O. Hart, W. C. Lee, Walter E. Mueller, George Sherwood of Orange and Bert Reeves and V. W. Hannum, of Anaheim.

MRS. GRIMM RE-ELECTED AS COUNTY W. C. T. U. PRESIDENT AT MEETING IN FULLERTON

Mrs. Lola Dunham Grimm of Atwood was re-elected president of the Orange County Women's Christian Temperance union at the annual convention in the Fullerton First Baptist church this morning. Mrs. Cora Hale of Fullerton was named vice president.

The guest of honor for the occasion was presented by Mrs. Olga Walther, who sang a duet. Miss Josephine LaRue played a group of piano numbers for the banquet session, and Miss Louise Tate, Miss Marjorie Marks, Gordon McMahon and Herbert Ford, with Mrs. Gordon McMahon accompanying at the piano, sang a group of quartet numbers. Miss Shirley Kohlenberger sang a solo, with her sister, Betty, accompanying, and the pastor of the host church, the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, led in devotions. Miss Brown talked on the work with young people.

Proposals Outlined
Mrs. Wheeler outlined three proposals that the United Dry Forces, made up of the churches of California and the W. C. T. U. and other groups, are asking passed at the next election.

These proposals would provide for outlawing liquor advertising; for eliminating the sale of any liquors within 200 yards of a school or playground and would provide for a tax on the manufacture of liquors for causing the hospitalization of inebriates, an expense now on the taxpayers, and for care of damage suits.

The morning session yesterday was devoted to routine business, with Mrs. Lola Dunham Grimm, president, in charge. The musical program at the afternoon meeting was presented by Mrs. Olga Walther, who sang a duet. # CITY JOINS WAR ON FIRES

CHIEF OUTLINES WIDE PROGRAM ON PREVENTION

An elaborate program of fire prevention to be headed by Fire Chief John Luxembourg and his local fire fighters during the 1937-38 school year to be placed in the school system will begin Monday with the start of National Fire Prevention week, it was revealed today by Capt. T. D. Miller, in charge of arrangements.

Plans for awarding of prizes and certificates of merit to schools showing exceptional records have been completed for the year and an exceptional motion picture, "Sounding the Alarm" is ready for showing, probably in all junior high schools and the senior high school. One of the local theaters will be asked to show the film as one of its "shorts" during the week.

Prevention Posters
Santa Ana merchants are asked to place a fire prevention poster, submitted by the fire department, in their show windows and possibly to place short "tid-bits" of safe fire prevention advice in their advertisements, the "tid-bits" to be furnished by Chief Luxembourg.

The water department and others have consented to place fire prevention stickers, furnished them, on envelopes of monthly bills sent out, to remind the citizenry of the special week.

Schools Cooperate
A uniform fire bell ring of at least 10 short rings will be established in all junior high and grammar schools, Captain Miller pointed out. "We feel the best way to bring safety-mindedness into the homes is through the school children," said Captain Miller, "and therefore, we have prepared home inspection blanks for child. The blanks contain 25 questions dealing with hazards in the home, the blanks to be filled in and returned to teachers."

COLLEGE OF OZARKS PROUD
CLARKSVILLE, Ark., (UP)—The College of the Ozarks here attracted a student 4,000 miles away. Aaron Raphael Cook of Klawock, Alaska, came all the way to Arkansas to attend this year's term at the college, according to officials.

ALL-AMERICAN HONORS WON BY JAYSEE PAPERS

All-American honors were accorded two publications at Santa Ana Junior college this year when it was announced today that Del Ano, college yearbook, and El Don, Jaysee weekly had achieved these highest awards of junior colleges in the United States.

Competing against 200 other jaysees, Del Ano was one of several other annuals to be awarded the All-American rating. Last year's book achieved first class rating, which is the second highest award.

Staff Is Listed
This is the third year in which Del Ano has achieved such national honors. The National Scholastic Press association made the awards.

Del Ano as well as El Don were printed in the college Fine Arts Press under the direction of Thomas E. Williams. Ray Riggs edited Del Ano, while Bob Swanson was El Don editor. The annual received a total of 550 points in the rating system. It was said 700 points was the average received.

Other Honors
Mrs. Eleanor Northcross was literary advisor, while Thomas E. Williams was printing advisor. George Holmes was business advisor, and Miss Frances Egge, art advisor.

Swanson was assisted in editing El Don by Dorothy Grist, society editor; Ray Foster, sports editor; and Gerrie Griffith, feature editor. Harvey Baker was advertising manager, and Vic Rowland was circulation manager. John H. McCoy is journalism director and advisor.

Aside from the All-American rating, Swanson was recently honored by achieving nation-wide recognition for his editorials.

CHURCH PROGRAM PLANNED TODAY

A highly entertaining program has been outlined for members and friends of the Richland Avenue Methodist church in Santa Ana, it was announced today.

Mrs. Iva Webber, vice principal of Julia Lathrop junior high and her daughter, Mrs. William Kellogg, will show moving pictures taken on their recent trip to Alaska at 7:30 p.m. today in the church proper, located at Richland avenue and Parton street.

A potluck will be served by church members in the church bungalow at 8:30 p.m., previous to the showing of the moving pictures.

FOSSIL IS JIG-SAW PUZZLE

HOLBROOK, Ariz., (UP)—Pratt Greer has a real jig-saw puzzle on his hands. He is attempting, with aid of rangers of the Petrified Forest national monument to piece together the lower jaw of one of the largest phytosaurs ever found, which he discovered near Holbrook.

The "big room" in the Carlsbad Cavern, N. M., is 4000 feet long and 625 feet wide.

MRS. HEDGES TO ADDRESS P.-T.A.

Mrs. Leo Hedges, state motion picture chairman for the Parent-Teacher association, will be the speaker at the next open meeting of the Santa Ana Council, P.-T. A., to be held at 7:30 p.m. October 5, in the Spurgeon school auditorium, council officers announced today.

Mrs. Hedges will bring with her a page composed of at least two prominent high school teachers: Mrs. Edith Frost of Eagle Rock, who will show a motion picture film made by the Camera club, and Mrs. Somes of Los Angeles, who will show a class room film illustrating the use of motion pictures as a teaching tool.

Special Features
Mrs. Hedges will talk on "The Parent-Teacher Approach to the Motion Picture Problem." According to officers of Santa Ana Council, Mrs. Hedges has had years of experience in the motion picture field and has gained a fund of information from which to speak with authority on the problems which the motion pictures have created for the home and the child.

Many special guests have been invited to attend this meeting, including: Mrs. H. C. Brown, president Fourth District, P.-T. A.; Mrs. R. J. Brown, motion picture chairman, Fourth District P.-T. A.; George King, manager of the Fox theaters in Santa Ana and Victor Walker, manager of Walker's theater.

The Mother Singers, under direction of Mrs. Lorene Croddy Graves, will sing several selections. The program was arranged by Mrs. Glenn Tidball, courtesy chairman of the Santa Ana Council and Mrs. H. Brown, Council chairman.

DINOSAUR CEMETERY FOUND

MOSCOW, (UP)—A large cemetery of prehistoric animals, which existed in the Mesozoic Era, has been found in the Zyl-Kum desert, near the Aral Sea. There were found bones of long extinct animals, beginning with small amphibians and ending with monstrous dinosaurs which were sometimes forty meters long.

KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS TO MEET IN S. A.

More than 300 Kindergarten teachers will be in Santa Ana Saturday for an all-day session of the Southern Section of the State Kindergarten Primary Association. Santa Ana teachers will be hostesses for the conference which will include a morning session and noon luncheon to be served in American Legion hall. Arrangements for the event are being made by the following committee members: Miss Mary Beasley, chairman; Juanita Pico, Inez Hickman, Maren Leonard, Lillian McDonald and Miss Mildred Mead who is in charge of tickets for the luncheon.

State Chief Speaks
At the luncheon session Miss Helen Heffernan, chief of the State Department of Elementary Education and Rural Schools, will be the speaker. Miss Heffernan will discuss the "California Program of Elementary Education."

Mrs. Josephine O'Hagen, president of the California Kindergarten Primary Association, of which the Southern Section is one branch, also will be an honor guest at the conference.

The morning session will be held in the Little Theater of the Santa Ana high school and will be presided over by Mrs. Dorothy Voorhies Stever, president of the Southern Section Kindergarten Primary Association.

First Aid Work
A musical program will be presented in the morning featuring the Santa Ana high school Girls Glee club under direction of Herbert G. Bickel, assisted by Verna Osborn as accompanist, and Margaret Jabert, who will play a violin solo with Evelyn Southard playing the piano accompaniment.

A squad from the Santa Ana police department, under direction of Sgt. James McWilliams, will demonstrate first aid practices, just before the opening of a business session of the conference. During this session C. Addison Van Loenen, president of the Elementary Education Association and principal of the Laguna Beach elementary school will give a visual report of the National Association convention held in Detroit last July and Miss Alice Livsey of Glendale will give highlights of the convention. She was a delegate to the convention representing the Southern Section Kindergarten Primary Association.

The area of Alaska is nearly equal to that of California, Delaware, Maryland, Montana and Texas combined.

SOLON SPEAKS BEFORE LIONS

Making a plea for leniency by the citizens of the 19th Congressional District in their judgment of what can be done and what ought to be done in the House of Representatives, Harry L. Sheppard, incumbent representative, told the members and guests of the Lions club yesterday that he not only represented the 19th district, but the country as a whole.

"I have, and I always shall do my utmost for the constituents of the 19th district," Sheppard told the Lion group, "but at the same time I also have a responsibility toward the entire citizenry of the United States."

C. W. Harrison, former candidate for representative from the 19th district, was program chairman for the day and introduced the guests and speakers.

Other speakers who were called upon by Harrison were Harold Thoreson, secretary to Sheppard, and Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools.

Community Chest Answers Told By Chest Official

Just what is the Community Chest?

This is the first of a series of questions about the Community Chest answered by J. B. Tucker, president of the organization.

The Community Chest is a federation of eight charity and welfare organizations of Santa Ana associated together as a non-profit organization for more effective work and more economical financing of the human betterment programs which can be carried on only through the individual gifts of the citizens of the community.

The Chest itself is not a charity agency. All relief and welfare work supported through the Chest is carried on by the eight agencies which it supports.

In its annual campaign the Community Chest voices the needs of the agencies and asks the citizens for financial and moral support of their services during the ensuing year. Only during the campaign will you have an opportunity to make gifts to these agencies for all of them have agreed not to ask for funds except through the Community Chest.

A board of directors of responsible citizens, all of whom serve without pay, determine the policies of the Chest and administer the funds.

The organizations receiving funds through the Chest are Boy Scouts of America, Child Welfare Committee, Girl Scouts, Ruth Home, Salvation Army, Veterans' Welfare Committee, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK
Evangelist Elton Hill of Brea, will be the guest speaker at the Chest's Ambassadors young people's service this evening at 730, it was announced today by the Rev. E. L. Friend, pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly, 1600 West Third Street.

HOAGLAND WILL PLAY AT CASINO

Casino San Clemente, South coast dancing rendezvous announces final appearance this season of Everett Hoagland and his radio entertainers Saturday evening.

Held over for the third week-end by popular demand, Hoagland's splendid radio orchestra will this Saturday night conclude its season's appearance in this attractive dancing palace, officials said.

Fortcoming features for Saturday evening dancing will, shortly be announced, according to L. J. Burrud, Capital company executive, as it is planned to continue throughout the winter, bringing the finest orchestras available to Casino San Clemente.

INJUN GIRLS HAVE HEAP BIG TIME; RIDE GAS EATING PONY

ALTURAS, Calif., Oct. 1.—(UP)—Four little Indian girls (Big Wolf's daughter, Prairie Flower, Little Wild Rose and Happy Rose) played hookey from school, commandeered an automobile and left in their zig zag trail today a posse of deputy sheriffs, alarmed Indian graves and a countryside in uproar.

The entire escapade was carried off in the best Indian fashion. The girls got tired of grade school, and walked out. They didn't saddle their tethered ponies, but got in an automobile somebody left near the school. Gertrude Diggins (Big Wolf's daughter) found the ignition keys and the trouble started.

Gasoline Horse
With Big Wolf's daughter at the wheel, the girls set out over the twisting mountain roads of this remote section. B. W. D. had never driven before, but neither had Mary Baily (Prairie Flower), Margaret Pope (Little Wild Rose) nor Moden Balise (Happy Rose).

The girls giggled with delight as Gertrude careened the car 40 miles toward Big Valley. At Big Valley gasoline trouble developed and the girls had a white man's automobile on their hands that refused to budget another inch.

They picked choke cherries and

FEVER THERAPY SHEPPARD RAPS DISCUSSED AT DR. TOWNSEND BOARD MEETING

High-lighting the regular monthly meeting of the Santa Ana Valley hospital board of directors in the Sun Room of the institution were reports today of Dr. Elizabeth Tock, secretary, showing that no deaths occurred at the hospital during the past 30 days, and a scientific program by Dr. G. Emmett Raitt, chief of staff, on the subject, "Fever Therapy."

Dr. Tock revealed that 34 doctors made use of the hospital during September and 116 patients were dismissed.

Dr. Raitt reported successful results in treatment of bronchial asthma, infectious arthritis and venereal diseases by use of fever, induced by the fever cabinet recently installed in his office.

He also reported excellent results in treatment of alcoholism through use of the same cabinet, wherein an artificial humidity instead of fever is created, thus causing the patient to perspire greatly, forcing the alcohol from his system. On March 16, 1935, artificial fever was accepted by the American Medical association as part of the practice of medicine, he explained.

"Until recently, because the practice was to induce a very high fever—106 degrees Fahrenheit—over several hours' time, this type of therapy was given only as hospital procedure," he said.

"The modern practice," he said, "is to produce a fever from 102 to 104 degrees, depending on the condition. Treatments are given every other day the first week and twice a week after that. Reports from the Mayo clinic revealed the treatment was useful in treating gonorrhea, acute or chronic, and its complications."

The clinic's report: "After treatment with artificial fever, 70 per cent of patients who had gonorrheal arthritis were symptom free. Of value in treatment of syphilis in its various manifestations, particularly when combined with drugs. In bronchial asthma,

New Breeding Of Bees Tried To Aid Strain

BATON ROUGE, La., (UP)—If science has its way romance will be deleted from the life of the queen bee.

In an effort to improve bee strains by controlling the mating of the queen, experiments have been conducted successfully with artificial insemination in the laboratories of the University of Louisiana here.

dinarly wings her way to a tryst

high in the air in spring, her choice of a mate being a matter of chance, according to Dr. Otto Mackensen, of the United States Bureau of Entomology in charge of the experiments.

As a result, Dr. Mackensen explained, science has found it all but impossible to improve bee strains by selecting breeding. In-successful, he declared, plans now are being formulated to make artificial insemination of the queens of commercial value to bee culture.

As a result of appropriations of more than $10,000 sponsored by Gov. Richard W. Leche for control of bee diseases, bee culture in Louisiana has grown to such proportions that this spring 30,000 queens accompanied by 40,000,000 workers were shipped to various points throughout the United States.

Many of the bee colonies are sent to owners of fruit orchards who use the bees to spread pollen and increase their crops.

NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

Miss Wagers Is Bride Of Walter Allen

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—In a beautiful bridal setting at the First Methodist church, Miss Gladys Wagers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wagers, South Batavia street, became the bride of Walter H. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Allen, Burlington, Colo. Thursday evening, the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the church, reading the service.

The ceremony took place beneath an arch of white blossoms at the altar, banked with ferns and palms and lighted with white candles set in tall torches. Large baskets of dahlias, asters and chrysanthemums were placed on each side of the altar.

Miss Wagers, a lovely blonde, was in a gown of white lace over shimmering white satin, fashioned with a long train in princess style with puffed sleeves tight at the wrist. Her veil of lace and tulle was train length and her bouquet was of Talisman roses and centered with orchids.

Attendants were Mrs. Randall Bivens, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor. She wore a yellow taffeta frock and carried a bouquet of yellow sweet peas and tiny yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Eleanor Buckles, as maid of honor, wore blue taffeta and carried blue delphinium and sweet peas, tied with a blue satin ribbon.

Miss Alma Fay Allen, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Marie Bivens were bridesmaids. Miss Allen wore pink and Miss Bivens, peach taffeta. Their bouquets were of sweet peas with a frill of maidenhair fern. Little Miss Marilyn Fenton, in pale green taffeta with short frill skirt, was flower girl, scattering rose petals in the path of the bride.

Elmer Wagers, brother of the bride, was best man, while ushers were Ernest Wagers, of Santa Ana, brother of the bride, Randall Bivens, of Orange, and John King, of Fullerton.

Music before the ceremony was furnished by Miss Elsie Sorenson, who played the wedding marches and accompanied the vocalists. Phillip Herrington, sang "Because" and Mrs. Clyde Hughes, "At Dawning." Miss Rachel Skunberg played a violin selection, "I Love You Truly."

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for 60 guests at the home of the bride's parents. Flowers centering the refreshment table were bowls of sweet peas. Tapers were used in lighting.

For traveling the bride wore an attractive knitted suit of green, with a fox fur, brown accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple left for a honeymoon on Santa Catalina Island, after which they will be at home in the Atridge Apartments on South Glassell street, Orange.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Fred Wrye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Westerman, is seriously ill in the Army hospital at March Field. Mr. Wrye is a sergeant in the March field aviation forces.

Royal Arch Masons will hold a stated meeting at the Masonic hall at 8 o'clock tonight.

Student body officers of the county are to meet at the Orange Union high school October 12. Details are to be announced by the Orange High school student body president, Ray Amling.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Fields, of Van Nuys, are rejoicing over the arrival of a son, Donald Edward, in the Sargeant Maternity hospital of Santa Ana. The baby was born Monday noon, and weighs six pounds, seven ounces. Mrs. Fields is the former Mary Katharine Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lowry, of South Orange street. He is the first grandchild of the Lowrys.

NEW COMPOUND ON CITRUS PESTS TOLD ROTARY CLUB

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—A hopeful outlook for the orchardist in regard to elimination of citrus pests by means of chemicals and natural enemies, was expressed by Dr. A. M. Boyce, assistant entomologist at the University of California's experiment station, speaking to members of the Orange Rotary club Thursday.

A new compound has been developed at the station, said Boyce, which is made of chemicals and mixed with walnut shell meal. The compound will be used to control the red spider and will offer a market for walnut shells, he pointed out.

Different species of citrus pests and their natural enemies were described by the speaker, who told in this connection of the work of Dr. Harold Comper, who is expected to arrive soon from Africa, where he has been studying parasites for citrus pests.

The speaker pointed out that partial elimination of a pest leaves the parasites which feed on them without food and the parasites nearly die out. This, he stated, leaves the pest free to increase undisturbed for a period until the parasites have again increased.

Lutheran Class Arranges Party

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—The first meeting of the season for members of the Helpmeet class of Immanuel Lutheran church was spent at the social hall of the church Thursday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. Oscar Klammer and Mrs. Ewald Wegner, who served a delicious desert course at 2 o'clock, after which Mrs. Frieda Jaeneke presided over a business meeting.

Mrs. Gus Struck and Mrs. Louis Koth was appointed to purchase a table. Members and friends will be entertained with an informal party sometime next month. A committee to plan entertainment, includes Mesdames Andrew Edwards, Martin Danner, Ewald Wegner and Albert Struck. Mrs. Jaeneke will be chairman of the serving committee.

After the business session tables of bridge, "500" and buncos were put into play and winners were, bridge, Mrs. A. G. Edwards, "500," Mrs. Louis Koth, and buncos, Mrs. A. N. Blank.

JUNIORS NAME OFFICERS

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Junior class officers at the Orange Union High school were elected this week. Lester Paulus was chosen president; Rachel Softley, vice president; Betty Collins, secretary; Arthur T.

Program Planned By Toastmasters

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Toastmasters, meeting at the Sunshine broller Thursday night, made plans for a ladies' night program to be held at the Woman's clubhouse October 7 at 6:30 o'clock. James Goode is chairman of arrangements. R. W. Hull presided.

Critics were James Goode, W. C. Armstrong, J. A. Porter and E. P. Ehlen, while Jack Morris and Henry Bisch were diction critics.

Speakers were R. W. Hull, whose topic was "County Fair"; Arthur J. Sipher, "Along the Highway"; Tom Clark, "Sit Down and Win"; and Al Behneman, "Some Problems of Life."

Sipher was awarded first place and Clark second in the speaking contest.

Hobson Jr., yell leader. A song leader will be elected next week as four candidates tied for the place.

We, The People

By JAY FRANKLIN

THE NIGHT SHIRT THAT FAILED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The attempt to wave the bloody night-shirt of the Ku Klux Klan has failed to stampede the New Deal liberals.

The motives which prompted this sudden attack upon supreme court Justice Hugo L. Black can only be guessed. It looked like a good chance to embarrass the President and put the judiciary reform bill in camphor. It looked like a hot issue to divert moral indignation from the wholesale denial of civil liberties to industrial workers by focusing attention on the famous post-war reaction of the Old South to the economic and political struggle for race equality. To a handful—men who argue like Mark Sullivan with the zeal of the Inquisition that a public official should be impeached for his past beliefs—it offered a hope that Mr. Black could be taken off the supreme court before he had a chance to pass on the Public Utility Holding Company act and other liberal measures up for judicial review. To G. O. P. politicians it offered a good talking-point and a belief that the liberals could be weaned away from the Rooseveltian pap.

Judging by liberal comments, the plan seems to have been a failure. Even Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, a Catholic and an opponent of judicial reform, is quoted as saying that he knew of Mr. Black's Klan background but voted for his confirmation because he "thought Black had grown up" and "because I had never seen him show any signs of prejudice." Senator Norris of Nebraska has also spoken powerfully in behalf of Mr. Black and other Progressives have added their opinion that his real offense was his record of militant liberalism in economic and social issues.

The rank-and-file are rallying behind this mature and level-headed appraisal of the Tory resurrection of a dead-and-buried issue. "The New Republic" and "The Nation"—both traditionally outspoken advocates of justice to the Negroes—have joined in support of Mr. Black's liberalism and by the time he lands at Norfolk, the Administration should have turned its dangerous corner.

In one of its loin-girdling editorials, "The New York Times"—leader in dignifying this attempt to revive sectional bigotry—gives the show away. "The New Liberalism"—complains this wealthy organ, whose present managers have been wrestling with a stubborn problem of federal inheritance taxes on the estate of the late Mr. Adolph Ochs—concentrates its fervor on the economic issues from which arise racial and religious intolerance. Like many other individuals and institutions, this paper finds it easy to quiver with rage at events a thousand miles away and years ago.

"What do memories of such things matter," it asks sarcastically, "memories of the night-riders and the lash and the tar barrel and the smoking flesh of some Negro spit on the stake, in the light of the present struggle over economic issues and the present attack on 'vested rights'?" Of what importance are old records of bigotry and religious persecution, compared with a senator's vote on some new bill to curb industry and tax the rich? (Italics mine).

This casts a new light on the anti-Black "crusade." The passionate reluctance of the embattled millionaires to part with that which is due, under the law, to the Internal Revenue Bureau, has long been known. It is natural, if undignified, in fact, recent news stories tell triumphantly how, rather than pay the tax on undivided surplus, corporations are paying out bonuses to their employees and stockholders (which was exactly what the tax was intended to do). Now we find a wealthy metropolitan newspaper coupling its revival of religious bigotry with social taxation and labor legislation.

In the meantime, the liberal lines have held remarkably firm and the liberals themselves seem to be discarding the most dangerous and self-defeating element in their political tradition: the notion that a public servant must be judged, not by what he does, but by what certain liberals believe he ought to think. The old parable of the bad tree putting forth good fruit has, until now, never been understood by American liberals, and as a result their leaders have been discredited and isolated by those who had the means to demonstrate that all popular idols have feet of clay.

On the whole, I think that the nation is to be congratulated on its steadiness in the face of this imposing red herring of Mr. Black's alleged membership in the Ku Klux Klan. It will take something stronger than the tarnished symbols of yesterday's liberalism to defeat economic justice in the third decade of Twentieth Century America.

The Woman's Angle

By ALYCE

WELL, IT HAD TO HAPPEN sometime. Charlie McCarthy has confessed to heart throbs for Dorothy Lamour. Fans think it is just a publicity gag, but those in the know say that any dummy who can ride a wooden horse at cocktail parties with such marked success as Charlie must have a way with the ladies, as well.

When Florence George and Lanny Ross are announced on the Hollywood Mardi Gras program amid great fanfare and babble, they are eagerly watched by the youngsters in the seventy-two-voice choir. These boys and girls are genuinely thrilled to be on such a big-time program. Most of them are just out of school. The majority are studying voice and dreaming of a time when they, too, will be stars. It adds a touch of pathos to this big-time show to see so much condensed ambition in such brave array.

Lovely little Mary Paige came back from the east wearing what she amusingly tabs her New York bonnet. It's quite a gay, frivolous, feminine contraption that any one of us might envy. You know, one of those hats every woman wants to give her glamour and allure.

It looks like our good opinion of Miss Betty Campbell of KMPC is shared by others. This 18-year-old songstress is being tested by a number of movie studios. Her voice test is reported to have been so good that she may be offered a contract. If she photographs as well, we may have another Deanna Durbin before long.

Raymond Paige is a bit worn out from the strain of his new show and the difficulties of Hollywood Hotel. At dress rehearsal recently he seemed to have given so much talent and energy to the wedding of his baton that he looked genuinely tired afterward. The music was grand, impressively and moving. But it took less than half an hour to be played on air, and not many of us realized the terrific amount of work involved to present such finished perfection to the listeners.

It's about time for the annual Hollywood Hotel birthday party. Two years ago Dick Powell was host at his spacious Toluca Lake home. Then the program was at its height, and no one realized that it could ever slip. We didn't know Dick was contemplating a change, and the sponsors didn't know so much depended on Dick. They thought that, although other shows had taken nose dives, Hollywood Hotel would go on forever. There was a general opinion of "It can't happen here."

But it did. Last year when Louella Parsons was hostess for the big event and had to pitch a circus tent in the garden to accommodate the guests, there was an undercurrent of unrest, of fear. It was the very first of the rumblings that were to be voiced at a later date.

Mrs. (Amos) Goodrich has an unusual slave bracelet that boasts of more original trinkets than the average. Among the tokens which flash on her wrist is a miniature soup can (Amos' new sponsor after January 1st), a tube of toothpaste (you know whose), a lightning bolt for "Lightning," a gold fish for "Kingfish."

This charming and attractive young woman is also very interested in her famous husband's hobby of amateur photography. The Goodrichs were like two small children in their eagerness to talk of the fascinations of the camera world, and eager also to leave cocktail parties to those who could make use of such and go home to the intricacies of the "dark room."

Now that Andy has made Alyce (that's my name, too) his wife, there should be a happy forenoon. Unusual as Amos' Andy's success has been, part of it can easily be explained by the friendship of their two creators. One of the rarest and most perfect friendships between man and man is that of Goodrich and Correll. It's nice that their respective wives fit in the picture so well.

Richard Himber's music is as smooth and sophisticated as it ever was. The thing that distinguishes him to forget is that Himber directs a DANCE BAND. His orchestra shouldn't be compared with those which have a wider scope—such as symphonic interpretations of popular music. What Dick does and does well is to play the smartest music to come out of New York for people to dance to. Remember that the next time you start patting your feet while you sit in the easy chair.

YEP, THE guy on the left wearing the monocle to improve his vision is none other than Nelson Eddy, singing star of that Sunday coffee hour. In this picture, as on the air, all attention, however, is focused on Charlie McCarthy, who gallantly offers to buy all the ladies a lemonade. Edgar Bergen looks on with paternal satisfaction as Eddy gives the little shaver his first shave.

Minnesota, Arkansas, L. S. U., Trojans Picked As Winners Of Major Games

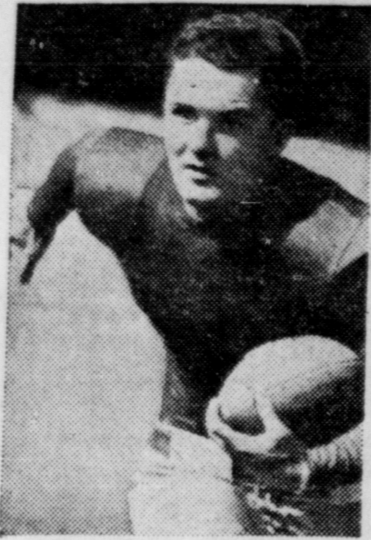

Art Morton of Louisiana.

Marcel Chesbro of Colgate.

Ambrose Schindler of U. S. C.

Johnny Rabb of Ohio State.

Andy Uram of Minnesota.

Jim Benton of Arkansas.

BY RICHARD McCANN
(NEA Service Staff Writer)
Mr. Harry Hoof, the boss expert, and Mr. J. Mortimer Cinema, the movie critic, and Sadie Goldstein, who's known as Mme. Ah-knowzall now, got together and set to talking about the football games coming up Saturday.

"I'm going to the Nebraska-Minnesota game," said Mr. Cinema. "It's one you just shouldn't miss. You know, it's another Cecil DeMille Bierman spectacle, dripping with drama, soaked in suspense. It's one of the most lavish and entertaining extravaganzas ever done. Andy Uram, you'll find is superb in the fourth act."

"Well," said Harry Hoof, "I don't know nuttin' about that but you takes this Arkansas-Texas 'Christian thing'... The T. C. U. game is a three-year-old, but Arkansas is a prepped-for this, with good time trials..."

Here are some of the outstanding gridiron warriors who will resume their battling over a nationwide front tomorrow. Art Morton will punt, pass and pray for Louisiana State against University of Texas at Baton Rouge, La. Ambrose Schindler, Southern California quarterback will open up his campaign for All-America against Washington, Pacific Coast champions, in Los Angeles. Johnny Rabb is expected to be one of Ohio State's biggest ground-gainers in the important Big Ten bout with Purdue at Columbus. Marcel Chesbro, Colgate's tackle-captain, performs against Cornell at Ithaca. Andy Uram of Minnesota faces Nebraska at Lincoln. Jim Benton is co-captain and end of Arkansas, which plays host to Texas Christian at Fayetteville, Ark.

URGE CHICAGO QUIT BIG TEN

CHICAGO—Abolition of all intercollegiate athletics and withdrawal of the University of Chicago from the Big Ten conference were advocated today by The Maroon, U. of C. campus daily.

FOOTBALL TABLOIDS

BERKELEY—Possibility that Vic Bottari, sparkplug of the University of California, might be forced to remain on the sidelines with injuries Saturday today lowered the Bears' chances of beating Oregon State. Bottari was out of uniform again yesterday, suffering from cleat cuts received during last Saturday's St. Mary's game.

SAN FRANCISCO—St. Mary's today was established 10-8 favorite to defeat Gonzaga when the teams meet in Kestor stadium Sunday.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—A squad of 31 Oregon State athletes entrained today for Berkeley, where they will attempt to topple University of California's Bears. Coach Lon Stiner named Frank Nihil, 200 pound tackle, team captain for the game.

EUGENE, Ore.—Threatening skies today gave rise to possibility that Oregon and Stanford will play on a wet turf Saturday. Observers believed a wet field would make it necessary for both the Cardinals and the Webfoots to restrict their offense to ground plays.

PULLMAN, Wash.—Secret practice was ordered for the Washington State Cougars today.

SPORTS WHIRLIGIG; NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Non-traveling football fans are warned that tonight will be the last home game for Santa Ana's Dons until November.

The Jaysee squad is "on the road" for the next four Friday nights. They play at Chaffey next week, then in order at San Bernardino, at Glendale, at Pomona. The Dons return home Nov. 5 for successive home contests with Riverside, Citrus, San Diego State's Frosh or Salinas, and Fullerton.

The schedule is eminently unsatisfactory from Santa Ana's standpoint. Efforts will be made next year to guard against one team playing away from home more than twice in a row.

Trojan teammates of Miles Norton, ex-Saint and ex-Don tackle who is now a guard at S. C., call him "Bunny-Nose" Norton, the Santa Ana cyclone.... At home, Norton is known as "Mood".... At Jaysee they called him Moose.

This one is too good to keep from those who know well Coach "Tex" Oliver.

Brother Oliver had a trying experience in Chicago recently. In that city for the first time, the bewildered mentor was seized by a couple of coppers, taken to the station-house, fingerprinted, given a long third degree.... Not for hours did he have a chance to identify himself. And was he boined up?

Eventually, it developed that Oliver resembled a holdup man who had been operating in the neighborhood.

Col. John S. Berger, the Canadian who got reams of publicity here when he said he was going to build a big-time horse racing plant near Buena Park, is back in the limelight.... He has filed charges against Chairman Carleton Burke of the racing commission, claiming he was given the old run-around by Burke and others who allegedly favored the Santa Anita plant.... Col. ### 'WE'RE LOUSY' SAYS COACH OF HUSKY ELEVEN

BY RONALD WAGONER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES—Trojan enthusiasm, heightened by the doleful reports of Jimmy Phelan, threatened to make University of Southern California slight favorite when the Trojan warhorse meets the Washington Huskies in the Coliseum tomorrow.

To believe Coach Phelan the Huskies all are hospital cases and not an aggregation hailed as the team that should challenge the mighty California Bears for the coast football title, as the experts dope the race.

Belief that a "Trojan season" was in prospect was expected to draw a crowd of from 65,000 to 75,000 to the game.

"We look lousy, boys," Coach Phelan moaned as he stepped from the train. "We can't win. I hope Howard Jones tells his squad to go easy on us."

Following the gloom session, Phelan put his 33 players through their paces but barred the press because "the boys are in such bad condition that it might hurt the game."

A check of the Washington roster disclosed, however, that Phelan had 19 lettermen back this season and a capable list of reserves with varsity experience.

Washington's backfield of Capt. Waskowitz, Jimmy Johnston, "Chuck" Newton and Al Cruver has been ranked by impartial observers as one of the best on the coast.

The Trojans went through a long workout on defense against Washington plays, especially passes.

Jones also shed a few synthetic tears over his squad. Chief woe of the Trojans was over the condition of Bill Sangster, expected to be the shining star of this year's varsity. Sangster suffered from a leg injury.

Los Angeles—A team of Loyola seniors will be out for revenge on Redlands tonight in Gilmore stadium.

Every one of them remembers a game two years ago when they regarded Redlands as a soft touch—and lost 19-18. And although the senior backfield looked had last week against Caltech, Coach Tom Lieb figures the "revenge motive" strong enough to fire them to action.

CONN BEATS YAROSZ WITH FAST FINISH
PITTSBURGH—Billy Conn, 162 3/4, Pittsburgh, last night won a 15 round decision over Teddy Yarosz, 161, the former middleweight champion, by coasting through the first 11 rounds and then opening a slashing body attack that left Yarosz staggering and gasping for breath.

Trojans Lead Huskies, 6 Games to 4

LOS ANGELES—When the University of Southern California and Washington football squads meet in the Coliseum tomorrow, it will mark the eleventh gridiron battle between the two rivals.

Past Trojan-Husky scores:

EXPERTS PICK GRID WINNERS

By HENRY SUPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK — In all but a few scattered games, favorites will triumph tonight and tomorrow on the nation's gridirons, United Press sports writers predicted today.

The selections:
East: Colgate-Cornell: Colgate in a close game; Texas A. and M. in a close game; Texas A. and M. for the Southwest title — so Manhattan can't stop that team; Boston College-Kansas State: Boston College promises to be one of the best in the East this year; Also: Temple over Mississippi tonight; N. Y. U. over Carnegie Tech; Pittsburgh over West Virginia; Columbia over Williams.

Midwest: Minnesota-Nebraska: Minnesota has too much power and too many reserves; Purdue over Ohio State—a close game; Ohio backs seem too small to offer a good defense; Michigan-Michigan State: Michigan on the upgrade; Also: Northwestern over Iowa State; Wisconsin over Marquette; Notre Dame over Drake; Kansas over Washburn; Creighton over Oklahoma A. and M. tonight.

Pacific Coast — Southern California-Washington: Washington in a close game, which the breaks may decide; California-Oregon State: California has too much power.

South: Louisiana - Texas: A shaky vote for Texas; Vanderbilt-Chicago: Vandy has too much class; Tulane-Auburn: Auburn because of Tulane's showing in winning only 7-0 over Clemson last week.

Southwest: Texas Christian-Arkansas: Arkansas in the first Southwest conference game of season; Rice-Oklahoma: Rice by a touchdown.

Rocky Mountain: Colorado-Missouri: Missouri by a touchdown. (Copyright, 1937, by United Press)

Cookmen Gun For 13th Straight Win At Bowl Tonight

Hoping to catch its quarry unwary, either looking back with smug satisfaction on a smashing victory over Stanford's frosh or ahead to next week's first conference game at Chaffey, the powerful Santa Monica football squad comes to the Municipal Bowl tonight intent on snapping the 12-game winning streak of Santa Ana junior college.

Santa Monica, coached by one of Santa Ana's own favorite sons (big Curt Youel of Trojan fame) might do it, at that.

Last week, Santa Monica defeated Citrus Jaysee with ridiculous ease, 21-0, and Citrus always has been a power in the Eastern conference. Even last season, when the Dons had their best team in history, the Cookmen were fully extended to beat Citrus, 7-0.

Coach Youel brings here a team that is expected to win the Western conference. Strong at every position, and also "deep" in reserves, Santa Monica throws against Santa Ana a team versed in the Howard Jones style of attack but with it a series of lateral passes that Youel picked up in Ingleswood when he was assistant coach under Dick Arnett.

Santa Monica's lineup:
Left end—Jim Wiesel, first year, former all-Valley league full at North Hollywood H. S., smashing defensive player, 176.
Left tackle—Tony Idaserna, first year, halls from Los Angeles H. S., steady on both defense and offense.

Left guard—Verne Smith, first year, halls from Hawaii, and has prospects of developing into the best man on the line, 174.
Center—Roy Osaki, plays defensive end, was reserve two years ago, out of school last year, comes from Redondo H. S., 169.

Right guard—Jerry Walker, letterman and regular last year, one of the better linemen, best on defense, 175.
Right tackle—Stan McKenzie, first year, comes from Black Fox where he was first string tackle part of last season, is demon line blocker, 212.
Quarterback—Edbert Gipple, first year, switched to wing where he is fair pass receiver, 155.

Quarterback—Edbert Gipple, first year, comes from L. A. Poly where he was a triple threat back, excellent passer, 161. Also Bill Mills—160-pound Negro from Manual Arts in L.A., triple threat, fast as lightning with ball, gained over 100 yards against Citrus last week.

Left half—Earl Elsey, letterman and 1936 regular, an excellent pass receiver and crackjack blocker, 155.
Right half—Reed Trusel, letterman and 1936 regular, tops as blocker, good defensive man, 167.

Fullback—Don Nicholson, 167, undoubtedly the best full in the Western conference, a line smasher, is fast too, backs up line.

Although not listed as a starter, Quarterback Mills, flashy colored lad, is considered the ace ball-packer at Santa Monica. Tremendously fast and shifty, Mills ran wild against Citrus. Youel will send him in when the Dons begin to tire.

Coach Cook will field Santa Ana's strongest starting lineup. Co-Captain Erwin Youel, younger brother of the coach of the invading Corsairs, and Ted DeVelbiss, Anaheim freshman, will be at the wing posts. The veterans "Rust" Roquet and Bob Faulman the two tackles with Joe Crawford and Dick Tauber at guard and Danny Boyd, center. In the backfield, Oliver McCarter will be at quarterback, Co-Captain Ed Stanley and Mac Beall at halfbacks; and a freshman, Les McLennan, 190-pound speedster from Escondido at full.

Game-time is 8 o'clock.

GARIBALDI TO MEET AVENGER

Gino Garibaldi, the Italian heavyweight who boasts a victory over Vincent Lopez and a two-hour draw with Jim Londos, former world champions, among other brilliant achievements on the mat, was signed today to face the Masked Avenger in Monday night's feature three-fall battle at the Orange County Athletic club.

Garibaldi accepted terms after two other topnotchers flatly refused to mother the undefeated Avenger, and another—Nick Lutze—announced that he had a prior engagement.

Vic Hill meets Juan Oliveluel-Pico and Al Baffert draws Roughhouse Maloney in the other three fall matches.

"I don't expect them to quit smoking, if they have been used to smoking. But I don't want them to smoke in public—or where there other teammates can see them. I told them if they must smoke they should smoke in their rooms and sparingly."

Ten years ago, the same coach said: "Smythers has been caught smoking. We must maintain discipline on this ball club. Let this be a lesson to you fellows. If I catch any of you smoking, we'll get along without you, too, and you'll have to turn in your suit."

Parents expect too much of the educational system. Few co-operate at all with school authorities, yet most of them are quite ready to criticize at the first opportunity. It's that way all over the country.

It would be wise to think twice before criticizing a high school coach. He is doing the best he can with what material he has. In most instances where he doesn't produce, he hasn't material. Without material no coach, no matter how good he is, can put a winner on the field.

MEXICO SHRINE VISIT TOLD BY S. A. TRAVELER

(Editor's note: This is tenth in a series of letters from Mrs. Norman Gaston, describing her travels in Mexico.)

"Via bus to the shrine of Our Lady de Dos Remedios, for today is to be a special fiesta and will doubtless prove very interesting. The bus jogs along, stopping for women with babies tied to their backs by colorful rebosas, and for men carrying violently colored, poisonous looking candies to the fair.

"Everyone is going, the lame and the blind as well as the hale and hearty. Burros, laden with burdens twice their size, trot patiently in the middle of the road so that our bus is forced to halt many times until owners of the small beasts drive them into the ditch until we pass. The landscape is dotted with slowly moving humanity as far as eye can reach, but when I am told we have reached our destination, nothing resembling a church is visible.

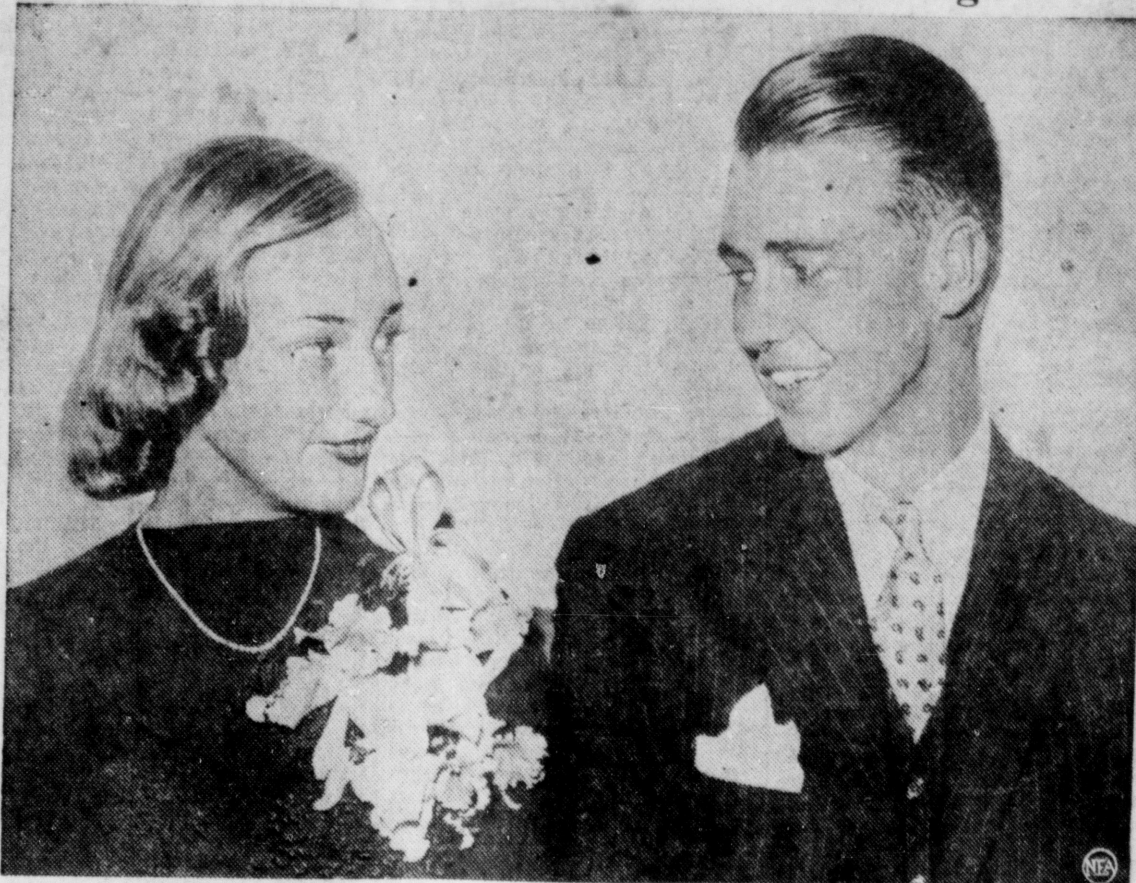

"A short walk past busy stalls where delicious appearing food is sold, brings me to the shrine where the crowd is so dense I am held almost stationary. Music reaches my ear and I struggle on with sight of the dancers. Real Indian ceremonial dances are being enacted and not for the benefit of tourists, for I am probably the only person not of Latin blood in the whole assemblage.

"Gruesome masks are worn by performers representing evil spirits. Musicians and dancers drive these evil spirits out of the enchanted circle by chants and gestures, all keeping perfect rhythm. All are in homespun costumes, and no theatrical dress and setting, could have been more beautiful than this simple but sincere performance.

"Some of the ailing peons made the pilgrimage to the shrine on hands and knees to be more worthy of any blessings Our Lady de Los Remedios might bestow, and humbled themselves before their God before asking their favors. I left feeling uplifted in mind and spirit, and just a little ashamed of the camera I carried with which to photograph the inner souls of these Indian friends."

Cupid Hovers Over the White House Again

Cupid has bagged the last of President Roosevelt's children. It is very obvious from the expressions of Anne Lindsay Clark and John Aspinwall Roosevelt that they have eyes only for each other. The young couple was admitted by Miss Clark's mother at Nahant, Mass., where Roosevelt, youngest and only unmarried member of his family, has been visiting his fiancée. There won't be a wedding, though, until Roosevelt is graduated from Harvard next June.

Police News

Albert G. Venske, 65, 1107 West First street, who fell from a step-ladder yesterday and struck his head, causing a three-inch gash, was able to return home today from St. Joseph hospital where he was taken by the Orange County Ambulance service, for treatment, after Lieutenant B. A. Hershey gave first aid.

Miscellaneous men endangered traffic early yesterday, stole warning lantern and a keg, placed on a pile of gravel at 1107 Bush street, W. H. Siemsen, 1810 North Main, reported to police.

Police today sought a man who used the names of two Orange county men on three checks which he forged and passed recently at three local department stores, the checks each being in the amount of $18. It was reported, "The wanted man is described as about 25 or 30 years old, five feet, seven inches tall, weighing about 135 pounds, and having sandy-colored hair.

THIEVES "DO DROP IN"
SEATTLE (UP)—Thieves apparently took a sign on a local tavern at its face value. The sign reads, "Do Drop Inn." A quantity of wine, punch board prizes and $20 were taken after the prowlers "dropped in" through a skylight.

CARREL, LINDBERGH CONTINUE WORK ON "ARTIFICIAL HEART"

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Dr. Alexis Carrel, research scientist, disclosed today that he and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh were continuing experimentation looking toward perfection of the "artificial heart" which they devised for study of human organs outside the body.

Dr. Carrel, returning from abroad on the Normandie, refused to say that they were making progress but indicated they still were working along the same lines. He rejected as "nonsensical" reports that Lindbergh planned to become a British citizen.

The French liner brought an unusual assemblage of celebrities. Among them was William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, who declined to discuss the foreign situation. He said he was here to place his daughter in school in Virginia.

Many Notables Aboard
Hedy Keiser, Austrian actress who starred in the film "Ecstasy," said she had been signed by Louis B. Mayer for Hollywood under the name of Hedy Lamarr. She shrugged when asked about her separation from her husband, a Viennese industrialist who spent a fortune trying to suppress "Ecstasy."

Grish Goluboff, 14, San Francisco violin prodigy, also was signed by Mayer on the way over.
Others aboard included Ezio Pinza, Metropolitan Opera basso, who said he was en route to San Francisco for a concert and to defend a

Hot Springs Project To Be Discussed

A large attendance is expected at the meeting of the Orange County Coast association at the El Padre cafe in San Juan Capistrano at 1 o'clock Saturday, when the development of the hot springs above the mission city will be discussed, with John Steven McGroarty, congressman and poet, as speaker. The luncheon will be at 1 o'clock. A tour of inspection of the property is planned after the luncheon. The meeting is open to the public.

NEW SALES TAX REGULATION IN EFFECT TODAY

Retail merchants are reminded by Ray Edgar, member of the State Board of Equalization from the fourth district, that the board's new regulation, providing for posting of the state sales tax separately from the retail selling price, went into effect today.

"This regulation was requested by several groups of merchant associations in the state," Edgar said, "because they believe merchants who have been absorbing the sales tax have been competing unfairly with those who have been collecting the tax from the consumer."

Contrary to various reports, Edgar pointed out, no change has been made in the minimum amount on which the tax is collected, which remains at 15 cents and the entire schedule of taxes is the same as heretofore.

In addition to posting the sales tax separately, merchants are required by the new regulation to display prominently in their places of business, a sign calling attention of patrons to the fact that the sales tax is to be added to all merchandise sold above the 15 cent minimum.

COMMITTEE ON S. A. DOG SHOW LISTS DONORS

Members of the awards committee for the dog show to be sponsored here Oct. 16 and 17 by the Santa Ana Kennel club today announced a partial list of trophy donors for the event.

PLANS FOR 1937 EVENTS FORGE AHEAD RAPIDLY

General plans for the big Orange county Armistice Day parade, to be held this year in Fullerton, were announced today by Arch Cooke of Fullerton Post 142, American Legion. Cooke is general manager in charge of the celebration.

The celebration will start at 11 a. m., on Armistice day with a gigantic street parade to be followed by a barbecue dinner served in Amerige park. West Commonwealth avenue, to officials, musicians, members of marching units and other parade participants.

Camp Life Portrayed
At Amerige park during the afternoon and evening, arrangements have been made for an extensive trailer show depicting latest developments in the art of trailer construction and accessories for camp and general utility purposes.

For those not interested in such a show, Fullerton and Santa Ana high school football teams, oldest traditional gridiron rivals in the county, will tangle at the high school stadium in their annual game at 2:30 p. m. Seats for nearly 7,000 persons are available in the stadium.

Invite Originality
Evening plans call for a grand ball and other special activities to complete the day.

The street parade, major event of all Armistice Day celebrations in Orange county, will have no particular theme this year, Cooke explained. Selection of float ideas will be left entirely in the hands of organizations making entries.

BUT NOT ON FIELD

25 LITHOGRAPHS OF FEDERAL ART PROJECT AT S. A. LIBRARY

A collection of 25 representative lithographs from the work of the Federal Arts project of California was placed on exhibit today at the Santa Ana public library, it was announced by Miss Ethel Walker, librarian. The exhibit will be on display until October 12.

Outstanding in the group is the black and white print, "River of Ice," by Conrad Buff, who recently completed the illustrations for Mrs. Buff's child's book, "Dancing Cloud, the Navajo Boy."

As the project is centered in San Francisco more northern than southern artists are represented. Well known artists exhibiting include Arthur Murphy, Grace Clements, surrealist; Otis Oldfield, whose studies of the bay bridge are striking; Henry De Kruff, who has a fine study of the mesa and valley. Color prints by Lawrence Holmberg lend a dash to the display and Maxine Albro contributes one of her finest color studies in "American Indian," the draped head and face of an Indian woman.

The Warren Freemans
Sail October 10
For New York

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Freeman, 2527 Santiago avenue, are completing plans for an eastern trip which will reach its climax during the holiday season when members of the Freeman family will hold a reunion in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thom of Waconia, Minn.

The Santa Anas expect to sail Sunday, October 10, on the S. S. Virginia from Terminal Island for New York City by way of the Panama canal. Niagara Falls, Chicago and Minneapolis will be visited. The Freemans will spend Christmas in Waconia just as they did two years ago.

Mrs. Freeman's brother, Fred Thom Jr., of Torrey Pines also will be in Minnesota for Christmas, and this year will mark the first time in several years that the entire family group has been together.

In Northfield, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Freeman will spend some time with Mr. Freeman's sister, Mrs. Ann Day, who was a guest in the home of her brother and sister-in-law last year.

Three P. E. O. Groups
Meet Monday
In Cruickshank Home

Opportunity to hear Mrs. Clarence Bond's report of Supreme P. E. O. convention held in St. Louis, Mo., late this summer will be given members of Chapters AB, GJ and DI of this community next Monday when they will be entertained at 2 o'clock in the A. J. Cruickshank home in Tustin.

Members of chapter GJ, of which Mrs. Bond is president, will be guests of the other two chapters. Hostesses will include Mrs. Cruickshank, Mrs. L. M. Forney and Mrs. W. H. Harrison of DI; and Mrs. W. T. Dunning, Mrs. William H. Spurgeon Jr., Mrs. O. H. Ekke and Mrs. Clarence Nisson of chapter AB.

Mrs. Bond's report will come as the main feature of the afternoon, which will be concluded with a tea interval.

Dinner Honors Guests
From Salt Lake City

Adding another informal affair to the list of entertainments for their house guests, the Misses Arleen and La Priel Goodwin of Salt Lake City, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Dalton were dinner hosts Wednesday night in their home, 1625 Bush street.

Avery Kirkham and Newell Larson of Los Angeles completed the little group. Autumn leaves and fruit centered the prettily-arranged dinner table.

The Misses Goodwin are sisters of Mrs. Dalton. Miss Arleen was to conclude her visit today and her sister will remain for a more extended visit in the Dalton home.

Another recent party at which Mrs. Goodwin entertained was in celebration of Miss Arleen Goodwin's birthday.

Local Club Groups
Attend Conclave Today

Santa Ana Ebell society and Women's club were well represented today at an executive meeting of Southern District Federation of Women's Clubs in Ontario. Ebell members in the group were the president, Mrs. W. S. Thomson and Mesdames Fred Rowland, S. W. Stanley, Edith Cloyes and L. L. Beaman.

Women's club members attending were the president, Mrs. Raymond McMahon and Miss Linda Kroeker, Mrs. F. A. Martin and Mrs. Irving Breeze.

OPENING REVIEW

Opening the annual autumn series of book reviews at First Congregational church, Mrs. John Tessonman discussed "The Miracle of England" by Andre Maurois Wednesday evening following a dinner meeting in the church dining room.

Mrs. Bert Miles was chairman of the dinner, which was in the nature of a rally affair. Announcement was made that the book review series will be continued this month. However, there will be no review next Wednesday since that will be the night of the Men's club meeting.

Smartly Appointed Affair
Introduces Autumn Season

A veritable tidal wave of autumn blossoms swept over Santa Ana Country club yesterday, leaving its foam of lovely flowers on luncheon tables and about the foyer and assembly room where Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon and Mrs. Marguerite D. Borgmeyer were co-hostesses at the first large party of the autumn.

In receiving their guests, the hostesses were gowned in smart afternoon costumes. Mrs. Borgmeyer in white chiffon patterned with bright flowers, and Mrs. Haddon in lace-trimmed green crepe, material for which had been brought her from the Orient by one of her sons, Edward Johnston Haddon.

Flower Designs

Flowers which were used in such lavish quantities, were gifts from various interested friends including Mesdames Irwin F. Landis, R. S. Chandler, Benjamin J. MacMullen, Charles V. Davis, Clare T. Johnson, Edward Hall and H. T. Dunning. Dahlias, chrysanthemums and zinnias were in the very spirit of autumn, while tall gladiolus stalks seemed to hint of the summer just ending. Lovely as the blossoms were as a background for the beautifully gowned guests, they were at their most charming in table arrangements fashioned by Mrs. MacMullen, Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. A. J. Miller.

Quite in the autumn mood too were the gifts which the two hostesses presented holders of high score at the various tables of contract during the after-luncheon interval. Mrs. Irwin F. Landis assisted in checking these scores, left this morning for their former home, following a recent operation.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Haupt, 521 Garfield street and Richard Luers, 504 South Barton street, left this morning for their former home, following a recent operation. Mrs. Luers will return home in two weeks by train. The Haupters plan to go to Detroit, Mich., to take delivery on a new car, stopping in Texas for a visit on the way home in six weeks' time.

Mrs. S. C. Hill, 116 West Twentieth street, who has been in St. Joseph hospital recuperating from injuries incurred in a fall several weeks ago, expects to be able to return home in two or three weeks' time.

Miss Amber Lee, who is employed in the office of Alliance Mutual Life Insurance company, is expected to return home soon from Panama, where she has been vacationing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chestley Lander, of Huron, S. D., are expected to arrive today for an extended stay in Santa Ana. They will be guests in the home of Mrs. Lander's mother, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, 706 South Main street.

Wayne Carothers, 1130 South Birch street, is spending the week end in Silverado canyon with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Allender.

Mrs. E. T. Battey, 110 South Birch street has returned from Whittier where she spent the past two days with her daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Bathgate and Mrs. Warren Wilson.

Mrs. Maude Bronson, 1054 West Fourth street, has been making a vacation visit at Stillwell's Camp, Big Bear, where she was the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Charles C. Kopps of Lincoln, Neb., has arrived for an extended visit with her brother and sister.

Another of their pleasantly informal affairs was shared yesterday by Jolly Dozen club members, who were guests of Mrs. John Rudolph in her home, 726 Tinker street. Dahlias were used in decorations.

Bride play of the afternoon yielded first prize for Mrs. George Young. Others present were Mesdames Katherine Schmiedelberg, Jules Markel, Elizabeth Dryer, William Castler and the Misses Bertha and Rose Klatt, with the hostess, members. Guests in the group were Mrs. Rudolph's niece, Mrs. L. Hubner of Orange and Miss Rose Lieberman. Mrs. James Colombari and Mrs. Antone Borchard.

Six weeks of vacation were concluded by Mrs. Herbert Meisinger (Margaret Haley) of this city when she returned yesterday morning from Honolulu, where she visited with her brother, Hugh Haley and with friends.

She was met at the harbor by Mr. Meisinger and their two children, Mary Ellen and Roger; by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Haley, former Santa Anas now living in Banning; and by Mr. Meisinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Meisinger, 1045 West Third street.

Mrs. Herbert Meisinger, Mary Ellen and Roger accompanied the Haleys to Banning for a visit. The two children were in Banning while their mother was in the Islands.

Concluding almost a month's buying trip to the New York markets, Mrs. Mary Thompson returned home yesterday and today was back at her usual duties on the first floor of the Rankin Drygoods store.

Mrs. Thompson was impressed by the glamor of autumn style trends in the east, a glamor expressed in furs, frocks and elaborate costume jewelry worn by women of the metropolis. She said that the radical change in style trends was especially pronounced in New York, and was reflected in the purchases she made for the local store.

First Autumn Meeting
Of Auld Lang Syne
Group, Enjoyed.

Summer travels from Canada on the north to Florida on the south provided subject for the interesting chat yesterday afternoon as Auld Lang Syne club members stitched busily away at handwork in wide variety. It was the first meeting of this group of long-time friends since summer vacation had carried them far apart, and was held in the home of Mrs. Effie Kelly on 101 Highway near Irvine.

A covered dish luncheon had been enjoyed in advance of the afternoon of needlework, with Mrs. Kelly's two daughters, Mrs. Lila Brown and Mrs. Bertha Baker, taking over the responsibility of serving. Zinnias and dahlias graced the home, also adding to the charm of the small tables where guests grouped in foursomes to enjoy the meal.

Club members were joined by several guests, Curtis Kelly, host of the day, and Christian Small of Whittier, and Mrs. Horace Lamont Rodgers of Whittier.

Among the after-luncheon travel talks were those of Mrs. Agnes Stanley of Garden Grove who had visited in Canada and then followed the east coast southward to Florida, and Mrs. Emma King Wassum, who had toured the Modoc county cave regions, describing among unique experiences, going far out on the Frozen River, 300 feet below the earth's surface.

Mrs. Agnes Oldfield was welcomed back to the group after her residence in Atascadero. She has now returned to Garden Grove to live. From Garden Grove also were Mesdames Carrie Chaffee, Agnes Stanley, Mina Newsum and Lydia Mitchell. Others present with the hostess, were Mrs. Wassum, Miss Percie Head and Mrs. Mabel Lowell, Santa Ana; Mrs. Carrie Small, Whittier, and Mrs. Jennie Johnson, Laguna Beach.

Miss Head will be hostess at the Thanksgiving meeting on November 18, in her home, 520 East Sixth street, Santa Ana.

Sigma Tau Psi Are Hostesses To Phi Sigmas

Sigma Tau Psi sorority members extended a pleasant courtesy to Phi Sigmas Wednesday evening when the two groups shared an informal affair in the home of Miss Jane Hill on Newport road. Dancing was enjoyed, and Dutch lunch was served buffet style.

Sigma Tau Psi in the group were Mrs. T. E. Stephenson Jr. and the Misses Dorothy Skinner, Fern Berkner, Betty Marston, Charlotte Barker, Eleanor Evans, Jane Hill and Genevieve Glover.

Fraternity members present were Phil Dows, Lindon Carman, J. D. Cobb, Paul Beckman, Bascom Rush, Ed Velarde, Bill Keaton, Louis Tadlock, Fred Pimental, Dean Hart, of the local chapter; and two national officers of Phi Sigma, Wendell Higbee of Alhambra, and Walter Hatch of San Gabriel.

Housewarming Comes
As Surprise To Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Huelkamp's new home at 406 East Bishop street was scene of a housewarming recently when a group of friends joined in feting the couple at a surprise affair.

Bridge had been planned as diversion of the evening, with prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. C. Van Deusen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Gilbank, who held the two high and low scores. Mr. and Mrs. Huelkamp were presented with a housewarming gift from their guests.

The self-invited group provided a dessert which was served late in the evening. Present with the Huelkamps were Messrs. and Mesdames C. Van Deusen, Fred S. Johnson, Clare Gilbank, Howard Shurtz, Wilbur Shook, Lowell Willy, Ray Wilkins, Gilbert Brown and C. C. Bonebrake.

A graduate of Orange Union High school, Fred Kelly later graduated from University of Southern California before entering upon his career as an air pilot. He was a famous college athlete who won a record in Sweden as a hurler. During the World war, he enlisted but was not permitted to go to France because his services as an instructor were required at the flying fields here.

Hostess Pays
Compliment To Autumn Bride

As Mrs. Victor Morrison, the former Miss Margaret Cotant was greeted by a group of close friends assembled last night for a post-nuptial shower at which she was honored by Miss Ruth Hilyard, entertaining at Danigers.

The marriage of Miss Cotant, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Cotant of Tustin, and Mr. Morrison, son of Walter Morrison, 617 North Garnsey street, was a quiet event of Tuesday, September 14, in Santa Barbara Methodist Episcopal church.

Since the rites took place so recently, Miss Hilyard observed a bridal motif in all party details. Dinner was served at tables where place cards of bride's design were especially lovely in the soft glow of tapers. Bride's cake was served with the ices of the dessert course.

Prize winners in bridge were Mrs. Lawrence Minge, Miss Margaret Rust and Mrs. Morrison. With her consolation award, the honoree received miscellaneous shower gifts from her friends.

In entertaining, Miss Hilyard had assistance of her mother, Mrs. P. C. Hilyard. Their guests were Mrs. Morrison and her mother, Mrs. A. L. Cotant, with the Misses Margaret Rust, Eleanor Metzgar, Frances Junstan, Aural Bauer and Mesdames George Groomell, Frank Bacon Jr., all of this community, and Mrs. Lawrence Minge of Glendale.

Bridge Club Goes To Los Angeles For Housewarming

Serving as a housewarming in the Los Angeles home of a former Santa Ana, Mrs. Walter Templeton (Grace Anderson) was a bridge club party at which she entertained Wednesday.

Guests added to the enjoyment of the occasion by showering the hostess with canned goods and other articles for her pantry shelves. Winners in bridge play were Mrs. Russell Daley and Mrs. Robert Lufbery, who held the two highest scores, and Miss Jeannette Jorgenson, low.

Mrs. Templeton served chicken turnovers, stuffed celery and other delicacies to her guests. Asters and dahlias brightened the home.

In the group were Mesdames Thomas Pangle, Robert Moore, Robert Lufbery, Russell Daley, Kenneth Hill, Joseph May, Carl Lacy; the Misses Edna May Heim, Margaret Young, Jeannette Jorgenson, all of this community; Miss Barbara Thompson, Vallejo; Mrs. Edward Miller, Wilmington; Miss Cleora Fine, Los Angeles, and the hostess.

Three Club Hostesses Give Benefit Party

Autumnal plenty in harvest and bloom, was suggested by the silver cornucopia of vivid flowers which on Wednesday adorned the Raymond A. McMahon home on South Main street, for guests of Mrs. McMahon, Mrs. George L. Wright and Mrs. Earl M. Waycott.

The occasion was another of the enjoyable parties being given by ways and means committee of Santa Ana Woman's club, and luncheon had its sequel of bridge play. Mrs. E. R. Lepper, scoring high and Mrs. Charles H. Stanley, low, received the prizes.

Church Group Extends Friendly Courtesy To Pastor

Members of United Brethren congregation entered into a pleasant conspiracy Wednesday night, lingering after the mid-week services in the church, to compliment their pastor, the Rev. E. E. Johnson, and his family with a party in the social rooms of the church.

Ladies' Aid society members planned this affair, which opened with song service and prayer followed by greetings from different church groups. Mrs. Viola Gammel had planned the program. Mrs. Scott Wiles, Sunday school superintendent, expressed greetings of the adult department and Mrs. Cassie Johnson brought those of Young People's Christian Endeavor society. The Misses Carolyn Hager and Marjorie Fryatt sang a duet and Mrs. Arthur Williams gave two humorous readings in appropriate costume.

As a climax to the program, Mrs. M. McNeal, class leader, presented to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and array of canned fruits and foods in wide variety, gifts of the assembled guests. Not only did Mr. and Mrs. Johnson express appreciation, but the young people of the home, Miss Marjorie and Glenn Johnson, also spoke briefly.

Ice cream and wafers were served by a committee composed of Mesdames J. H. Noble, R. L. Hager and W. L. Jackson.

The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

If you, Mrs. Housekeeper, could turn the seeing eye of a powerful microscope on the dust cloth you use day after day without a thought of washing it, you would be horrified at the walking delegates housed cheek to cheek on the dust cloth. Take a tip and buy a package of paper dust cloths, treated with a cedar oil, that makes them grand picker-uppers of the flying dust that got away under the old dry cloth rule. They cost almost nothing, but how these soft little wisps of paper do pay dividends in glossy furniture and a clean house!

Send for the Safe and Sound reducing diet today (just enclose stamped, addressed envelope with request). This special diet takes care of the pounds you want to lose quickly. Then, tomorrow I want you to read about a supplementary diet, delicious to take, grand for your complexion, and a balancer for your whole week. . . in other words reduce your weight and this week-end diet will keep you there. Girls who work in offices will find it particularly valuable, so read this column tomorrow, won't you?

Cheese Puddings For Main Dishes

4 slices bread spread with butter before cutting into inch-square dice
1 heaping cup grated yellow cheese
Salt and pepper, dash of paprika
2 cups milk, heated and mixed with
2 lightly beaten eggs.

Mix bread dice and cheese, season, pour on milk and eggs, mixed, and bake in a medium oven until the custard has set. With this pudding serve a creamed chipped beef sauce. Be sure and fry the chipped beef in butter before adding flour and milk. . . this little trick makes a world of difference in flavor.

5 slices of bread
2 eggs beaten with 1-1/2 cups milk
1-2 pound yellow cheese, grated
4 slices of bacon, diced
6 weiners (skins removed)
Butter and prepared mustard
Spread slices of bread with butter, then lightly with mustard. Dice two of the slices and pile in center of a shallow baking dish. Cut other slices into four fingers, each. Slice each weiner lengthwise. Now, sandwich each slim 'weiner' between bread fingers and arrange against side of the baking dish, dice in center. Scatter the cheese and bacon over bread, pour over all the milk and eggs, and bake one hour in a 350 degree oven, or until the center has set.

Cottage Cheese, Hot or Cold
Cottage cheese in salad dressings was ever a fair deluder, making the user think the dressing was especially rich, then the opposite was true. Try cottage cheese dressing with your first sliced orange salad. (Add a small amount of mayonnaise to creamy cottage cheese).

Doll up big baked potatoes with cottage cheese. Bake, then slice the top, give the potato a quick squeeze to push up the fluffy pulp. Plop in a good piece of butter, place potatoes on a pan and top each with cottage cheese mixed with chipped parsley, or chives. Dust cottage cheese with grated yellow cheese, pop under the broiler just long enough to melt the cheese.

Before tomatoes are gone, treat the family to one grand big salad. Use a peeled ripe tomato for each salad. Slice it and put together again, sandwich fashion, using creamy mayonnaise and cottage cheese, seasoned with chipped chives or parsley. Drape a little extra mustardy mayonnaise over top of garnished salad, with a stuffed olive for the tip-top button on the saucy cap.

LUNCHEON EVENT

Bronze dahlias and yellow tapers formed an autumnal centerpiece at the luncheon table in the home of Mrs. A. A. Hardy, Harbor boulevard, Tuesday afternoon when bridge club members were entertained.

The hostess was fortunate in holding high score in cards, while Mrs. Joe Steele won second high honors. Mrs. Joseph Hamblin received galloping award.

Others present were Mesdames Joseph Herschler, Lloyd Lohrer, Ray Wyckoff, Harvey Dimmitt and Harold Maylen.

You and Your Friends

leaders and captains for this semester.

Donna Tedrow and Remona Lara will act as captains in the eighth grade block I class. Rosie Gonzales, Bernadine Curran, Jean Withall, Gabrielle Scheerlinck and Katherine Adams will act as squad leaders.

In the seventh grade block II class are Dorothy Eley and Claire Lee McMillen. Acting as squad leaders are Marguerite Woods, Genevieve Wessman, Geneva Sawyer, Betty Humphrey, Betty Jean McMillen, Carolyn Harvey and Helen Holzgrafe.

Helen Butler and Alta Pride will lead the ninth grade block IV class as captains. Irene Barp, Annie Cammes, Constance Halsell, Betty Lee Allen and Lillian Montana are the squad leaders.

Neawanne Sargent and Geraldine Tway are seventh grade block V captains. Squad leaders are Jacqueline Munson, Dorothy Brush, Rosie Phillips, Lois Brown, Roberta McBurney and Beverly Russell.

In the eighth grade block VI class captains are Peggy Paul and Pat Collins, while squad leaders are Betty Platt, Bettie Jones, Frances Head, Rose Marie Chast, Ruth Hutchinson, Mary Alice Eckland, Pauline Kiech, Norma Doss and Maxine Hillyard.

The total cost of the resurfaced asphalt basketball courts at Willard was $350, according to G. D. Newcomb, business manager of the board of education. Willard has been using other public courts in the past.

Coach Lund remarked that the courts will be lined for badminton if there are enough students interested in bringing their own equipment, since the school is unable to furnish it this year.

Goldie Jacobs was elected president of the Senior Girls' Glee club, sponsored by Miss Helen Glancy, September 23, in room 107B. Marguerite Woods became secretary; Carolyn Harvey, treasurer; Vivian Taylor, reporter; Crystal Rudd, social chairman; Helen Garnett, librarian; Lola Marie Harman, transportation chairman; and Patsy Sheppard, uniforms.

"The Girls' Glee club is for the benefit of ninth grade girls who are interested in the art of singing," Miss Glancy remarked. "We are planning group numbers, to be presented at assembly this coming year."

"The uniforms this year are to be entirely different from last year's," stated Patsy Sheppard. "They are to be blue satin blouses, Russian styled, white skirts and shoes."

Initiation was held for new girls of the home of Virginia Jordan, 2006 Victoria Drive. Plans for future projects were discussed.

Those initiated were Connie Halsell, Frances Smith, Virginia Steele, Doris Jesse, Betty Jo Froeshe, Cecelia Phillips, Jane Downing, Jaunita Caudle, Jordis Gold, Martha George, and Dorothy Tubbs. Old members included Melva Burk, Jane Holmes, Sallie Tienan, Natalie Nelson and Virginia Jordan, the hostess.

Jack Thompson, Warren Paul and Paul Patton of W. Carithers' Boy Scout Troop 30, will act as messengers to Harrison White, Scout executive, at the Regional Camporee to be held at Irvine park for the Scouts of Utah, Oregon, Arizona and California, October 8, 9 and 10.

The boys will run errands and deliver messages to the various troops and scoutmasters. The hours they work will be counted toward their civic service work. They will have their own pup tent and will eat with the camp instructors.

"This year, as in other years, we will make the posters for the operetta," stated Miss Marion Libby, director of art in Willard. Although we have no information as to the name of the operetta, the class is making sample posters.

The eighth grade and the seventh grade are studying lettering and illustrating, it was reported.

Mary Jo Haskell and Sallie Tienan have the feminine leads in "Dixon's Kitchen," a comedy to be presented the latter part of October by Mrs. Nellie Smith's Drama club. "Boys who will take parts have not been decided upon as yet," Virginia Steele, director, said.

New home room officers who will preside in Willard Junior High school for the following semester were announced today. They are as follows:

CUPID MARKS UP RECORD FOR LAST 11 YEARS

Establishing a new September record for the last 11 years, brides and grooms obtained 419 marriage licenses in Orange county last month, according to record of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

This was the largest September matrimonial business since 1926, the last year before the three-day marriage law reduced marriages in the state. There were 450 licenses in September, 1926, the only September in county's history to surpass last month's total.

The low record for September, since the three-day law became effective, was set during the 1928 crash, when 288 licenses were issued. September of last year totaled 387.

BEACH HIGH SCHOOL RAIDED BY THIEVES

Thieves who raided Huntington Beach high school last night stole approximately $5 and a .34 Smith and Wesson revolver from the building, it was revealed today by Police Chief H. L. Grant.

A class was held until approximately 10:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium, and it is believed the thieves may have hidden in the place after class. From the desks of Principal M. G. Jones, Vice Principal Ray Elliott, and others in the main building 12 cents was taken. The thieves smashed a window to enter the main building after ransacking the gymnasium.

Court Notes

The late Mary C. Harrington, who died September 27, will her estate, valued "in excess of $10,000" to her two daughters, Eleanor Edith Harrington and Mary E. Harrington, both of Long Beach. It was shown today when her will was filed in superior court for probate by the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, of Los Angeles.

C. Grant Partch and his daughter, Evelyn, 27, of Fullerton, are legal heirs to the $4000 estate left by the wife and mother, Mrs. Nellie Grace Partch, who died September 18, it was stated today in the husband's petition for letters of administration filed in superior court. The estate consists of stocks and bonds.

THERE IS BALLYHOO
Ken Maynard, star of circuses and motion pictures, was a visitor this morning to the office of Sheriff Logan Jackson. Theme of the visit was ballyhoo. Sheriff Jackson promised he would give circus officials as much cooperation as possible in connection with circus day here today and said his patrol car deputies would patrol in the circus grounds area.

DOLPHIN COMPANY FILES DOCUMENT

Amended articles of incorporation for the Dolphin Company, owner of extensive realty holdings and other property in southern Orange county, were filed in superior court today, showing that headquarters of the corporation have been moved to Los Angeles, the capital stock increased from $100,000 to $150,000, and the board of directors from three to five members.

The amended articles are filed by Rex Hardy, Los Angeles attorney, as president, and Florence Dolph, 50, Los Angeles, as secretary. Consent was filed by the three directors, Mrs. Lucille McGaughy, O. Howard Lucy and Charles Newby. Mrs. McGaughy, of San Juan Capistrano, was principal heir of the late Blanche Dolph, sister of Florence Dolph, who attempted to break her will. Lucy also was a beneficiary under the will. Newby was their attorney.

GETS YEAR TERM

Genovese Cardona, 42, 1018 Logan street, landed in county jail for a period of one year today, after pleading guilty before Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana justice court, to a charge he failed to support his five daughters. While Cardona works on the chain gang under direction of Sheriff Logan Jackson, the county welfare department will support the children, 14, 10, 8, 6 and 3 years old, respectively.

DR. HARWOOD IS STRICKEN ON TRIP

Word was received here today that Dr. D. A. Harwood, who left here recently to take additional instruction in the use of radium, had been forced to stop in Streeter, Ill., and submit to an emergency operation.

Dr. Harwood was stricken in the Illinois city and removed to a hospital where the operation was performed. According to word received here today he is recuperating at a hospital in Streeter, Ill., and will probably return to his Santa Ana home within a few weeks.

HUSBAND IS FREED AS DIVORCE LOOMS

Felony charge against William Dillings, Los Angeles, that he failed to provide support for his pretty wife, Fay, was dismissed by Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana justice court today when a report was submitted, showing the couple plans to obtain a divorce in Los Angeles.

A charge of contributing to delinquency of a minor, filed against Dillings some time ago, was dismissed when the couple was married.

Kosher Butchers Close N. Y. Stores

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Kosher butchers, ignoring a plea to save the city from "embarrassment," prepared today to close 4500 stores as a protest against high meat prices.

Officials of the Federation of Kosher Butchers told Commissioner of Markets William F. Morgan, Jr., that shopkeepers felt that if they did not act themselves, irate customers would "close their doors for them."

Morgan made public a letter from Pendleton Dudley, director of the Institute of American Meat Packers, who blamed high prices on livestock shortages caused by the drought and lack of feed.

CALIFORNIANS TO PLAY
Starting next Saturday night, formans will succeed the Everett Lee Mann and His Sunny Call-Hoagland orchestra at Casino San Clemente. The Hoagland organization, one of the outstanding "name bands" in Southern California, completes its engagement at the San Clemente dance resort tomorrow night.

WHEELER RAPS AT GOVERNOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana came back at Governor Merriam today with another verbal blast in the controversy between the governor and Wheeler's law client, Norman W. Church, California horse breeder.

Wheeler yesterday criticized the Governor for denying Church's request for a public hearing of Church's charges that the state racing board was showing favoritism to Santa Anita racetrack in their opposition to a second Los Angeles track in which Church was interested.

Governor Merriam answered sharply that Wheeler "either is undertaking to beg the case or is misinformed."

"It is not a question of me with my client, it is a question of good government," Wheeler said today. "The Governor knows better than anyone else that Mr. Church was given a raw deal. Mr. Church appealed to the Governor to have it corrected. The Governor refused and still refuses to hear the charges filed by Mr. Church. That may be good politics, but I don't believe it."

TIBERIUS CAVALLO, ABOUT 1781, OPENED THE WAY FOR GAS FILLED BALLOONS BY EXPERIMENTING WITH GAS-FILLED BUBBLES.

THE strawberry tree is known scientifically as Arbutus unedo, and is a distant relative of the blueberry, huckleberry and cranberry. The strawberry character of the fruit is only skin deep.

ICKES ANNOUNCES NEW P. W. A. MOVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes today announced that state offices of the Public Works Administration will be replaced Nov. 1 with regional administrators as an economy move.

The reorganization, first move in the dissolution of the vast New Deal building and lending agency will mean "many separations" from the service in the near future, Ickes said.

"The PWA is now closing out nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of construction work in accordance with an executive order issued by President Roosevelt recently," Ickes said. "The work under construction or under contract or under allotment embraces 2,980 projects which will eventually cost $1,986,592,702."

FIGHTER SEEKS WATCH

W. H. Jones, former amateur heavyweight fighter of California, of 619 Eighth street, Huntington Beach, asked city police to help him find his 15-jewel watch, won in a fight in 1915 and lost yesterday afternoon while he was changing clothes in a local store. The watch, Jones said, had "W. H. Jones, Second Prize, Amateur Heavyweight Champion of California, January 15, 1915," engraved on it.

ALL A MISTAKE

Former Sheriff Sam Jernigan, who told Sheriff Logan Jackson some weeks ago, a thief stole his plow, today explained to the sheriff it was all a mistake. A friend had borrowed the implement without Jernigan's knowledge. The plow is home again, on Jernigan's Santa Ana ranch.

URGES CHURCH SOLIDARITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 1.—(UP)—Dictators will seize control of churches to further their autocratic powers unless Christian denominations unite to prevent them, Bishop W. Bertrams Stevens of Los Angeles told officers of the field department of the Episcopal diocese of West Missouri last night.

'Charley's Aunt' To Be Given By Fullerton League

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—The annual play given by the Girls' league of the Fullerton Union High school will be "Charley's Aunt" and will be presented, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Newton, on October 23 and 29 at the school auditorium, with a student performance on the first date, and an evening performance for the general public on the second.

The parts will be taken by Eldon Krause, Bob Jones, Kendall Neisses, Elbert Hoffman, Patricia Adams, Jean Launer, Paul Egeier, David Day, Bill Hawkins, Joan Butler, Betty Lou Porter and Beverly Kramer.

Greyhound Bus On New Schedule
LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 1.—Following a transcontinental season of several months, the Greyhound bus "Laguna Beach" has been assigned to the Los Angeles-Santa Diego run and makes daily stops at Laguna. The bus, one of several named for various California cities, is decorated with artistic bronze plate, setting forth in etched marine impressions the attractions of Laguna. The plaque, work of Laurie Cavanaugh, young local artist, was the gift of citizens of Laguna Beach and greets the eyes of countless passengers as they embark on or leave the bus.

Last Rites For Pioneer Saturday
FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—Funeral services for P. D. des Granges, 80, pioneer of this district, will be held from the McAulay and Suters Funeral home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock with the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman officiating. Interment will be in Loma Vista cemetery.

Survivors are a son, Harry des Granges, and a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Michael.

Girl Scouts Of Laguna Beach To Hold Dinner

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 1.—Following the success of the recent Girl Scout steak bake held in Aliso canyon as the closing event of the outdoor season, plans are afoot for a duck dinner to be given by the Girl Scouts at the Woman's club in the near future.

Arrangement sare being handled by Mrs. Henry Kenyon Beckwith, former Scout commissioner, and long active in local Girl Scout activities. To Holmes Henshaw has been allotted the task of organizing kitchen help, Henshaw to be barbecue chef. Mrs. B. J. Van Doren is in charge of the telephone reservation campaign, and the mailing list will be handled by Mrs. Beckwith. Proceeds from the dinner will go towards defraying deficit on the clubhouse and to provide furnishings, etc., for the Scout hut on the high school grounds.

20-30 And Rotary Club In Meeting
PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—A joint meeting of the Fullerton 20-30 club and the Placentia Rotary club was held Wednesday evening at the Ann Marie Tea room in Placentia. An objective of the meeting was the possibility of establishing a 20-30 club in the Placentia community and encouraging membership in 20-30. The meeting also closed an attendance contest by the Fullerton group.

An executive board meeting was held at the home of Darrel McGavran following the stated session. Six brief talks on the various phases of 20-30 work will be given at the meeting next week.

And see how easy to make

SCHOOLDAY COOKIES
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup figs, chopped
1/2 cup raisins, cut

Combine Spry, salt, spices and soda and blend. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (Done in a twinkling with triple-creamed Spry!) Add beaten eggs and mix well. Add 1/2 of flour, then milk, then remaining flour and chopped fruit, mixing well after each addition. Drop from tip of teaspoon on baking sheets greased with Spry. (So much easier than having to roll and cut out.) Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen—but they won't last long! Remember, only Spry can give perfect results in this recipe.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

Do ALL your baking this NEW EASY WAY

Use Spry for cakes, pastry, muffins, biscuits, everything. You'll say it's the creamiest shortening you ever used. Cakes are mixed in half the time and they're doubly delicious, so light, fine, velvety. You'll love Spry pastry, too, and Spry-fried foods, so crispy and digestible a child can eat them. Spry stays fresh indefinitely without refrigeration. So buy the 3-lb. can. You save money!

"All boys going out for any sport should get participation cards," stated Coach Lund, when issuing the slips this week. "There were a few more than 50 cars issued, but more boys than that have turned out for football alone," he said. Coach Lund also urged the boys to get their slips, have them signed and returned very soon.

Participation slips give permission by the boys' parents to play after-school games, in any sport, relieving the school and Coach Lund as well as the board of education from any financial liability or damage resulting from a player's injury.

IN DISGUISE

FOR...
VEGETABLE
"REBELS"

When vegetables become a problem, it's time to serve Vegeroni! That's the colorful, vegetable macaroni, with individuality and flavor all its own. Ten garden vegetables go into the making of Vegeroni... that's where its appealing pastel colors come from. When you serve a Vegeroni dish, you are serving a truly balanced meal.

Try Vegeroni Bowties this way:

FRIDAY DINNER

- 1 small package Vegeroni bowties, cooked
- 1 small can baby limas
- 1 medium can tuna
- crab or salmon
- 1 small can mushrooms
- 1 small onion
- 1 green pepper
- 1 stalk celery
- 1 pimiento, shredded
- 1 cup white sauce

To white sauce add other ingredients and bring to boiling point. Pour into greased casserole and top with cheese biscuits. Bake in 400° (hot) oven until biscuits are brown.

Here's That Amazing Way To LOSE UGLY FAT

Without suffering a hungry moment and without taking strenuous exercises or drugs

WEIGHT LOSSES OF 7 POUNDS A MONTH ARE COMMONLY CREDITED TO IT

TODAY, an amazing, new reducing method is sweeping the country. A method which offers at last, a way to take off ugly fat without suffering a hungry moment—and without taking strenuous exercises or drugs. A method which increases physical and mental energy as excess weight disappears. Under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, a number of people who were gaining at the rate of 1½ pounds a month, followed this remarkable method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds per person in a single month. Consider that carefully.

This Is All You Do

This sensational reducing method simply calls for this: Mix ¼ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice, with ¾ of a glass of water, and drink before each meal—and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly, and this is what happens. First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy. And, most important, helps nature to consume excess fat.

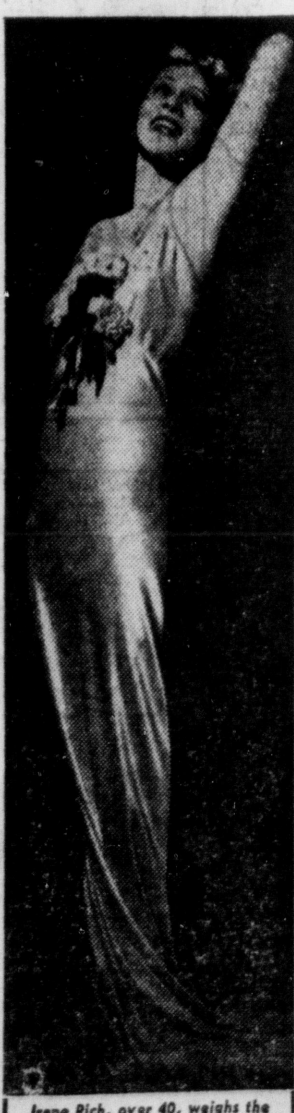

Third, the juice has an alkalinizing effect on the system which any doctor will tell you is highly beneficial.

This is why weight is not only lost naturally and safely—often at the rate of 7 pounds a month, or more—but why you feel so much better and stronger as your ugly fat disappears.

Only One Thing to Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat—eat sensibly—and be sure to use Welch's pure, aged, unadulterated full-strength grape juice. Made from the finest grapes grown. No water added; no artificial coloring. Good Housekeeping approved. Insist upon the genuine Welch's Grape Juice for the results you want.

OFFERING A CHOICE

One way of developing a child's good sense is to let him make a choice and abide by the result. But, like all other things in this world, there are several sides of the matter to be considered. One of them is the conditions of the choice. It must be real and it must be safe, especially for the little ones.

Should you ask Rudie what he will have for breakfast and should he answer blithely, "Fried chicken and watermelon," you would have to make plain to him that a breakfast menu for a three-year-old did not include those delicacies. And then you would be obliged to serve him the usual orange juice, toast, cereal, egg and milk. Don't give a child a choice when there is none.

It is a mistake to offer a choice of two evils. He may not choose the lesser one and then, where are you? "Will you go to the dentist or will you go to bed and stay there until you make up your mind to go?" is a very unwise choice indeed. He may choose going to bed, and he may stay there until you are forced to take him out and march him into the dentist's office. That would not be giving him a choice which would lead to his cultivating sound judgment and common sense.

Nor is it wise to offer a choice between things that are not equally right for him to have. "Which sweater will you wear today? You know it is cold. Will you wear the white one or the thick red one?" The thick red one is the one he has to have, but should he choose the white and lighter one you are in a bad place. Better not to have said a word about and to have laid out the red sweater with the remark, "It's just the thing for today."

When offering a choice don't lose sight of the element of choice and put compulsion in its place. "You can go to the dance, or you can have a new lining for your sports coat. Of course if you go to the dance I can't do anything toward getting you ready. You'll have to wear what you have." That's no choice. It's anything but. It would have been a fair choice had the girl's mother said, "I would like to give you a new dress for the dance if you really wanted to go, but you need a new lining in your sports coat and I can't give you both. What do you think we'd better do?" If she chooses the evening dress and lets the torn rabbit skin serve, accept the choice. But don't, when she begins to discover the mistake she made, hasten to give her the new lining at the cost of new sweater and hat you need for yourself.

The point of the choice is in teaching the child to abide by his decision and take the consequences without complaining. Experience is the best teacher life affords, and this matter of choosing is the way we gather strength from that teacher. Abiding by the consequences of a free choice is the essence of the matter. To remove the consequences is to make the whole experience of doubtful value.

And it is important, with all children, that the choice offered be real, that it holds no hint of compulsion, that the decision in any case will not lead to lasting hurt. A little inconvenience is useful here, but real injury cannot be permitted. There can be as much wisdom in offering the choice as there can be in making it.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney.
AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.
JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiancé.
HARRY HUTCHINS—Amy's strange visitor.
SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday, Mrs. Wheeler, the lady in Apartment 4-B, above Cilly's, came away. Suddenly it occurred to Cilly that she may have shielded the murderer; she may have thrown the fish papers in the incinerator shaft.

CHAPTER XV

CONTRARY to Cilly's expectations, the funeral services for Amy Kerr were well attended. She had asked that they be held in the smallest parlor, and now the room was almost crowded.

Harry Hutchins was there, of course, and Harvey Ames. With Mr. Ames was his partner, Mr. Wakefield, and four others whom Cilly recognized as employees in the realty office. Obviously they held Amy in high regard, despite her short association with them.

Immediately following the service Cilly noticed that the steps of the funeral home were lined with photographers. For the first time she realized that the newspapers were playing the case. The murder of a young girl was always meat to the public interest. Thus far the reporters had secured very little information, either from Cilly or the police. There was, after all, little to tell of Amy, and there were no photographs.

Tomorrow's papers would probably strike a new theme. "Is the Murderer Among These Who Mourn Amy Kerr?" they might inquire, with innumerable question marks. There would be these pictures of the small group leaving the funeral parlors, with appropriate arrows to indicate Miss Priscilla Pierce, who shared the apartment with the victim. . . . Mr. Harvey Ames, employer of Miss Kerr. . . . Mr. Harry Hutchins—but no, Harry had lingered inside. Probably he had foreseen this. Harry preferred his photograph taken at the smarter places, linked with the notables, Miss Gloria Harmon in particular.

It was not much more than an hour later when Cilly returned from the cemetery. As she turned into the entrance of the Bayview, she heard, through the open window, the ringing of her own telephone. She hastened her steps. It was Sergeant Dolan.

"Say, Miss Pierce," he said abruptly. "I'd like you to come down to headquarters as soon as you can. Something I'd like to talk to you about."

"I'll leave immediately," Cilly assured him. She hung up, a little fearful.

She went into the bedroom to freshen her make-up. She combed her hair and set her tiny little black hat at a more rakish angle. It strengthened her self-assurance.

Half an hour later, she sat opposite Sergeant Dolan in a small private office down at police headquarters.

"Any news of your boy friend?" Dolan asked her, almost before she was seated.

He flung the question at her abruptly, startling her for the moment. Her self-assurance weakened perceptibly. "No, of course not," she said, "not since—" She stopped, realizing that she was about to say: "Not since his postcard yesterday." It was just one such little slip that Dolan hoped for.

"Not since when?" he asked, instantly alert.

"Not since Sunday, of course. But I did discover something very important."

"Let's hear about it."

BRIEFLY, but in detail, Cilly told him how she came to find the Bluefields newspapers in the incinerator: she showed him the sections she had reclaimed. She told him of her visit that morning to Mr. Johnson, and of his peculiar literary tastes.

"Another thing," she said, "Detective Martin apparently forgot to consider Mr. Johnson yesterday when he was collecting alibis for all the tenants. He might very well have been up there on the roof—he goes up every night to lock the door—and he was the only one who came out of the front door after Amy was killed."

"Did you see him come down the stairs?"

"No, I didn't. I assumed that he came up from his rooms in the basement. I was looking at Amy—not at the front door. I only know that he was the only one who came out of the house before the police arrived."

Sergeant Dolan shrugged his wide shoulders.

"It doesn't look to me," he said slowly, "as if you have much of a case on Johnson. After all, if a man chooses to read up on insanity in his spare time, that doesn't make him a murderer. It doesn't even make him insane. Anyway, from your own story of the newspapers, you're ready to believe that someone upstairs is implicated."

"YES, I do," Cilly admitted. "Don't you think whoever threw away the papers knows a great deal about Amy's death?"

"Well, I'll admit it would seem so. Bluefields, Utah, is a small place. I'm willing to check more thoroughly on the tenants. . . . " "If it's not too late?"

"You told me yesterday, Sergeant, that we were all to stand in readiness for a summons to police headquarters. Was that order for me alone, or was it given to every tenant?"

"Martin gave every tenant the same instructions."

"Nevertheless, Mrs. Wheeler in 4-B left hurriedly this afternoon with two large suitcases. I don't think she'll be back for a while."

Dolan picked up a phone from the desk. To someone at the other end he ordered: "Have Martin check up on a Mrs. Wheeler in Apartment 4-B at the Bayview. See if there's any indication that she skipped."

Replacing the phone, he turned to Cilly: "There's something peculiar in that," he said. "I particularly gave orders that no tenant was to leave the vicinity without special permission. . . . Well, we'll see about Mrs. Wheeler. Now what else did you have to tell me, Miss Pierce?"

"Nothing else, sergeant," Cilly said calmly. "But I do believe those three incidents have a tremendous bearing on the case."

"Perhaps you're right," he sat still for a moment, strumming on the table with the tips of his fingers. His eyes were calculating as they stared uncompromisingly at Cilly. Under his steady gaze, she became restless. It was with tremendous control that she remained her composure.

"Nevertheless," said Sergeant Dolan finally, "let's get back to this friend of yours—Kerrigan. How much haven't you told me about him, Miss Pierce?"

Cilly straightened. "I've told you all there is to tell," she said with dignity. "Mr. Kerrigan and I are very good friends. I am sure you will find his character and his habits entirely above reproach. You're wasting valuable time trying to cast suspicion on him."

"Did Mr. Kerrigan ever tell you," Sergeant Dolan asked, with maddening deliberation, "that out in Bluefields, Utah, his father is serving 10 years in prison for theft?"

Gives Her Roses And Challenges Atlantic City

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN (U. P. Hollywood Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Hollywood's leading artists (plus the Chamber of Commerce) took a flexible steel tape measure today, entwined it around the shapely body of Miss Betty Grable, read the results with profound satisfaction, and defied Atlantic City to do better.

The artists—and don't forget the C. of C., which never misses a bet—formed the "Committee for the Improvement of American Standards of Beauty," and announced that Miss Grable was prettier, smarter, and shapelier than anything Atlantic City ever produced in the way of a beauty contest winner.

Challenge Hurdled
 The committeemen, who spent a pleasant morning measuring Miss Grable (bosom 34; waist 23; hips 35; weight 114), challenged "the right of officials of the Atlantic City and other similar contests to describe their winners as being outstanding examples of the young womanhood of our nation."

LOVELY MISS GRABLE

"This committee feels," it continued indignantly, "that such contests exhibit beauty only of the skin deep variety, neglecting altogether such underlying springs of feminine beauty as charm, intelligence, personality, character and poise, and that therefore these contests fail to produce a type personifying young womanhood of America."

Miss Grable, who works at the Paramount movie studios, issued therefrom in high-heeled slippers, a big smile, and a baby-blue bathing suit so tight that if an Atlantic City cop (for instance) had seen it, he would, anyway, have lent her a blanket.

Betty Wins Prizes
 The artists were waiting with a silver cup, a dozen red roses and eyes wide open. They included Henry Mulsrum, sculptor; Rolf Armstrong and Russell Patterson, illustrators; Henry Lovins, president of the Hollywood Art Center school, and Buckley MacGurran, artist and critic.

The rest of the committee consisted of Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber, who doesn't know much about art, maybe, but who's certain that when prettier girls are produced, their parents will be Hollywoodians, and probably members of the C. of C.

The elderly Lovins applied the tape to Miss Grable. "Oooh, it's cold," she shivered, smiling simultaneously for the benefit of cameramen, and thus demonstrating what the committee meant about intelligence, personality, character, and, especially, poise.

The weather, being cold—most unusual according to the C. of C.—Miss Grable said she felt undressed, somehow. She put on a coat.

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—I enjoy my movies just as much as anyone, but there are times when they give me a profound inferiority complex. Last night, for instance, I saw a picture that sent me home with the depressing conviction that I will never amount to shucks. Along about the third reel, the hero went to bed. I saw him climb into bed in a pair of freshly-ironed pajamas, toss and tumble restlessly—and then get up the next morning without a single wrinkle in his pajama pants. And not one hair on his handsome head was mussed, either. Then, in the last reel, what did he do but slip out of his office chair, take one sock (just one, mind you) at the villain's chin and knock that big bruiser colder than a healthy hound's nose.

I would give almost anything to be like that. When I get up in the morning, my hair looks like a heap of shredded wheat and my pajamas, back from the laundry the day before, resemble a relief map of the Rockies. And the last time I took a sock at a man's chin (a little man, he was, too) he forgot to fall down. I was quite embarrassed—but I suppose he had never seen a movie and didn't know that one punch should knock him out.

People tell me that I should be inspired by the immaculate heroism of every picture's hero. Usually I am. But there are times when I feel crushed and inferior. Maybe I send my pajamas to the wrong laundry.

On any movie set where a dumb animal is working, you invariably find a man who, though obviously not employed by the studio, watches each scene with an eagle eye. He is a representative of the S. P. C. A.—the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—there to do his duty as a "pre-venter." And his presence is not only tolerated, but actually demanded, by the producers. In the old days almost every picture featuring an animal was the sign for a trade and an investigation by the S. P. C. A. The studios, in desperation, finally implored the Society to place an investigator on every set. There have been in all motion history not more than two or three authenticated instances in which animals were abused. Movie trained dogs, cats and horses are too valuable to be ruined by cruelty.

Everywhere people are discussing the personality of the hour, Robert Taylor, so it seems fitting for me to contribute my character clue. There is a room in Bob's house that fairly bulges with its store of western boots, wide-brimmed Stetsons and leather chaps. Whenever he has the chance, Bob dresses like an "Old Cowboy." He is gun-crazy, spur-crazy, horse-crazy. Maybe he has always had a cowboy complex; maybe it is a recent development—but there it is, ready to be fitted into a character analysis of the screen's No. 1 lover. And the sight of the idol of the American school girl, swaggering around in high-heeled boots and a ten-gallon sombrero never fails to tickle my sense of humor.

Speaking of Old Cowhands reminds me that I met Clara Bow on the Boulevard today. The ex-Brooklyn Bonfire, whose hectic romances kept Hollywood in the headlines for years, is now the mistress of a wilderness cattle ranch in the hinterlands of Nevada. She last night club within a day's drive and the gladiolus party of the year is the fall round-up. The 3 a. m. girl now goes to bed at nine and tumbles out with the dawn. She rides like a rodeo queen and can tell you every fluctuation of the beef market for the past four years. And the little red-head from the crowded streets of Brooklyn is the happiest woman I know. . . . A far happier person than ever she was when she reigned as the screen's greatest star, I always marvel at the miracle called Mrs. Bell.

Not long ago, Warner Baxter made an initial payment on a palatial yacht—and those who know him best gaped with amazement. Warner made a trip to Catalina and returned, looking rather wan. A few days later, when asked about that new cruiser, he mumbled something about sacrificing the down payment because he had decided it would be cheaper to charter a boat than to own one. And then he changed the subject. But Dick Barthelmess and Bill Powell are chuckling. They remember how seasick one Warner Baxter was on a yachting trip to Ensenada, Mexico, a few years ago.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

DOGS AND GOVERNORS

Some years ago, my valued friend, Governor Perceval Baxter, of Maine, ordered the State House flags half-masted when his loved setter dog died. The setter had been his chum for many years. And Baxter decreed this strange form of mourning for him.

Governor Earle, of Pennsylvania, was walking near a river, with his favorite terrier, last June, when the dog was stricken with a fit, and tumbled helplessly into the water. Earle plunged in after him, and rescued him and swam ashore with him.

Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, had a big black dog that was too mild of nature to suit his tastes. So he chose a livelier house dog for his own home, and sent the black canine to the local states prison to act as a pal and a brightening influence for the convicts.

When Theodore Roosevelt was governor of New York, he spent nearly an hour one day in showing off his brindled cross-breed dog to me, at his Oyster Bay, L. I. home, and explaining what a grand animal the cross-breed was.

When Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts his one chosen comrade, outside of his own family, was his white collie, a dog about which he wrote me a long letter of praise.

Governors seem to take to dogs, don't they?

Long-Time Stars Meet Each Other As Strangers

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—Lunch in Warner Brothers' Green Room: Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, both very quiet. Gary Cooper, Archie Mayo, and Anita Louise. Cooper and his director are at this studio because Goldwyn is renting the Warner lake for some scenes in "Marco Polo."

Basil Rathbone, in flowered dressing gown with a Chinese dragon on the back, enters and embraces Cooper by embracing him and pretending to kiss him on both cheeks.

Bette Davis passes. She looks pretty pale after her illness—from sunstroke. Rathbone embraces her and really kisses her on both cheeks. Then he introduces her to Cooper, whom she'd never met.

It's astonishing, now and then, to see established screen players meeting for the first time. You'd think that everybody in Hollywood would know everyone else. But they move in different circles and chance may keep them apart, at different studios, for years.

Fred Astaire and Charlie Chaplin are next-door neighbors, yet they've never met or spoken. You could count on your fingers and toes the number of top-notch flicker folk who have met Greta Garbo.

After the Evidence?

There's an elderly character actress who always braves the surprised stares of nearby diners by bowing her head and offering up whispered thanks for her food.

Second time this phenomenon occurred, a still photographer was on hand to snap it. Maybe he thought his picture could be used as refutation of the charge that Hollywood is a Godless town.

The Lathrop Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell, is working on five one-act comedies. "Red Carnation" and "Teapot on the Rocks" are Samuel French royalty plays. The others are "A Scream in the Dark," "Orval's Big Date," and "Not Such a Goose."

The Girls' and Boys' Glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Cornell and Mr. Stover, are working hard to cast the operetta, "The Count and the Co-Ed." It was given six or seven years ago with Mary Jane Belcher in the lead. It was such a big success we thought it time to give it again.

The girls' physical education groups are playing ball at the present time. They hope to continue for a few weeks. The two

DRIVE CAREFULLY - SAVE A LIFE -

EDUCATION "WORSENE THE FOLLIES"

Those who believe that our only hope to bring our country back to better times is public education should read the chapter on this subject in "The Public Mind" by Norman Angell.

Norman Angell is now a Knight in England, has been a member of parliament, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1933, 40 years ago he lived in California and was a farmer. From the above it is evident that his progress has been very remarkable.

He very analytically presents the difficulties of influencing the public mind which would permit a decent standard of living. He recognizes the short-comings of organized education. This is what he has to say, "the philosophies of life and politics most favored by school and university—organized education in this sense has worsened the follies and errors from which we have suffered. Not only, therefore, is it true to say that most of those follies would have been avoided if those who suffered by them had applied the knowledge which is a commonplace of our daily lives, but it is also true to say that education helped to obscure the commonplaces which might have saved us, and that the errors themselves were in large part due to the express efforts of the educated classes, were in a special sense their creation."

Every person who is interested in good government and has anything to do with creating public opinion should read this most remarkable book, "The Public Mind." It should be in every good library.

WRITING FOR PAY

There is a very serious objection to writing for pay. If there is any one place where the profit motive is dangerous, it is in the writing business. Now that the written word has become so cheap and accessible to the great class of people and a great deal of opinions are formed from reading, the necessity of writers who are interested in arousing public opinion that will permit a decent wage for all who are willing to work and can produce, is of the utmost importance. Public opinion is now infinitely more important than it was in primitive times when man was satisfied with the bare necessities.

As our social relations get more complex, the necessity of public opinion that will permit good government, whatever form of government it may be, is paramount.

When the columnists, or educators, are only writing for pay, it is necessary to look through their motives to find out why they say certain things. Are they saying them in order to get a customer for their writings and temporarily benefit themselves, or are they saying them because they are really interested in the long time general welfare of humanity?

We have come in contact, personally and by writing, with quite a number of columnists and we are sorry to say that most of them have their pulse very close to public opinion and are writing only what their constituents want and they can market.

They are perfectly willing to tell the people that the voice of the people is the voice of God, when they know very well in actual reality, that in many cases, the voice of the people is the voice of Satan; when they know very well that under real democracy, one man and God constitutes a majority. Yet, these writers, in order to have a profit, blithely cater to the baser elements and to the unthinking crowd in order that they may temporarily live in comfort and luxury. When these writers who are writing for pay refuse to answer questions, every reader should put very little faith in their statements and their reasoning.

Writing to Seek the Truth

The real benefactors of humanity are the writers who do not write for pay but only accept pay so that they can continue to write. They are the men who will answer any challenge made to their statements. They are the men who will gladly correct any statement that is either not a fact or is not logical. They are the men who will correct any inconsistency.

The real writers who have real influence on humanity are the men who have something burning on their conscience, some intuitive influence that compels them to express what they believe to be of paramount importance and a benefit to society as a whole. It is writers of this kind that we should read. It is people of this kind, instead of paid columnists, who are writing only for profit, who will have a large influence in finally bringing the people back to their senses.

The Clearing House—the Conscientious Writers It is for this reason that we so strongly advocate conscientious, thinking people to express their opinions in the Clearing House. There is plenty of work to be done in this territory, in this congressional district so that we can have enlightened representatives who help influence other representatives. We should make every effort to do our duty intelligently, to see that we have as intelligent and as honest a representative in our legislature and in our law-making body, local, state and national, as can be had any place in the United States. When we have accomplished this, we may have accomplished wonders.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

CAUSES FROM EMERGING FROM BARBARISM This appears to be a strange subject to discuss in the twentieth century but if we can understand how people emerged from barbarism then, of necessity, by reversing we can understand more quickly how to prevent our present civilization from going backward.

The reader says he is not interested and thinks there is no danger? There is no danger, provided we have some intellectual leadership on the subject.

A Masterpiece on the Subject

J. R. McCulloch wrote a book on "Political Economy" a little over a century ago. This book caused him to be appointed professor of political economy of London University. So, his conclusions are worth repeating. Read what he has to say.

"The most careless and inattentive observer of the progress of mankind from poverty to affluence must have early perceived that there are three circumstances, without whose conjoint existence and cooperation they could never have emerged from barbarism. The first, and most indispensable, is the security of property, or a lively and well-founded conviction in the mind of every individual that he will be allowed to dispose at pleasure of the fruits of his labor. The second is the introduction of exchange or barter, and the consequent appropriation of particular individuals to particular employments. And the third is the accumulation and employment of the produce of previous labor, or, as it is more commonly termed, of capital, or stock. All the improvements that have ever been made, or that ever can be made, in the great art of producing the necessities, comforts and conveniences of human life, must be classed under some one or other of these three heads. It is, therefore, indispensable that principles, so important, and which lie at the very bottom of the science, should be well understood."

Taxes Part of Security of Property

This lack of security of property due to the governments taxing principles undoubtedly has played a large part in the longest and most severe depression the United States has ever had. When the people, through their government, come to the point that they take from the producer who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before and gives him nothing in exchange for taking his production from him, then the security of property is rapidly vanishing. Probably in all history, the most dangerous enemy to the rights in property is the government.

In less than 25 years, we have changed our opinion from the fact that people should have the rights to the fruits of their work without any interference or deprivation whatsoever, to now we take as high as 90 per cent or 95 per cent from certain individuals because they make two blades of grass grow where one grew before or because they get property in an unfair manner. We treat them both exactly the same.

As a result of this policy gradually creeping upon us, we even have been obliged to repudiate the word of the government and with all our laws and regulations we still have many millions of people out of work and those who are working receiving very much less than they should receive.

But our demagogic professors who teach for pay instead of being paid for teaching, and our lawmakers, who secure the job because it is easy and supposed to give them honor, instead of because they are interested in the general welfare of humanity contend that things are different now.

They certainly are different. The morale of the people has changed and we are trying a new philosophy that man can live without the sweat of his brow, which, in reality, means that men can live without using their brains.

In all history, it never has worked and we sincerely believe, unless we reverse the progress we made for so many years while we followed the three principles set down by McCulloch, we will continue to do as we are doing now and each succeeding year have a lower standard of living.

DEMOCRACIES AND LAW

As we see disregard for law and the rights of the individual so prevalent in our wage problems, in our taxing problems and in our money problems, it might be well to repeat what Elihu Root so wisely said, "Democracies are absolutely dependent for their existence upon the preservation of law. Autocracies can give commandments and enforce them. Rules of action are a convenience, not a necessity for them. On the other hand, the only atmosphere in which a democracy can live between the dangers of autocracy on the one side and the dangers of anarchy on the other side, is the atmosphere of law."

DIFFERENCE IN PEOPLE

About the only difference in people is whether or not they are obliged to learn by suffering or whether they have foresight and can learn by observation and by reason.

The Nation's Press

MARK TWAIN ON WAR

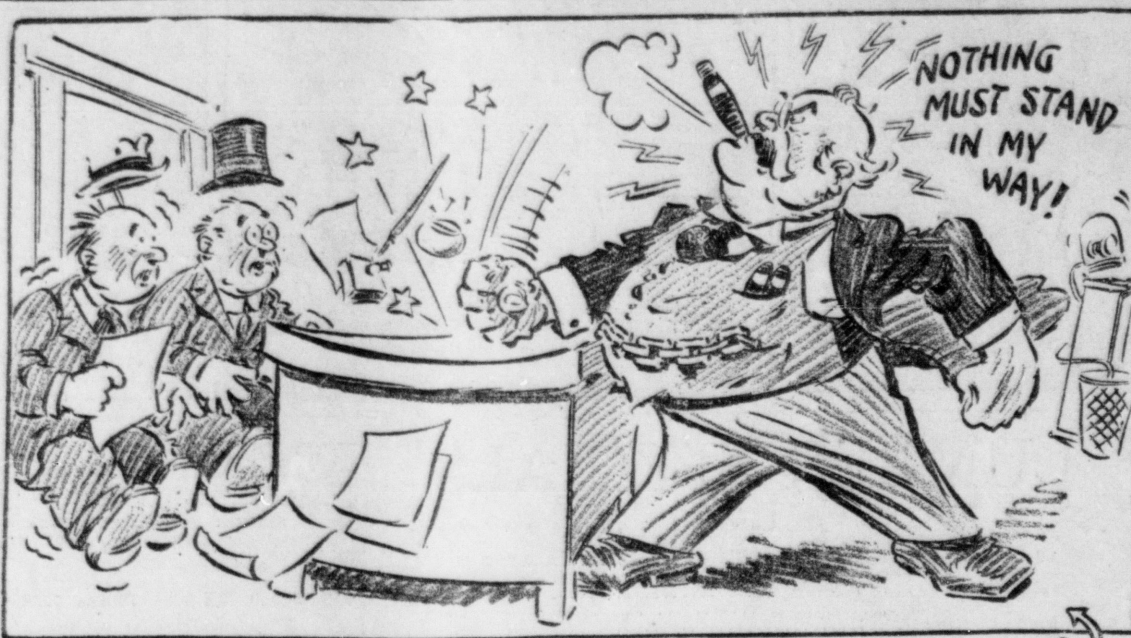

"This is a good time to get out your copy of Mark Twain's 'Mysterious Stranger' and read what that really great satirist says about war."

Samuel Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain) died in 1910, but his description of the way in which wars are made will recall to all of us the manner in which we were led into the World War and the methods by which the stay-at-homes were "convinced" that the war was just and right.

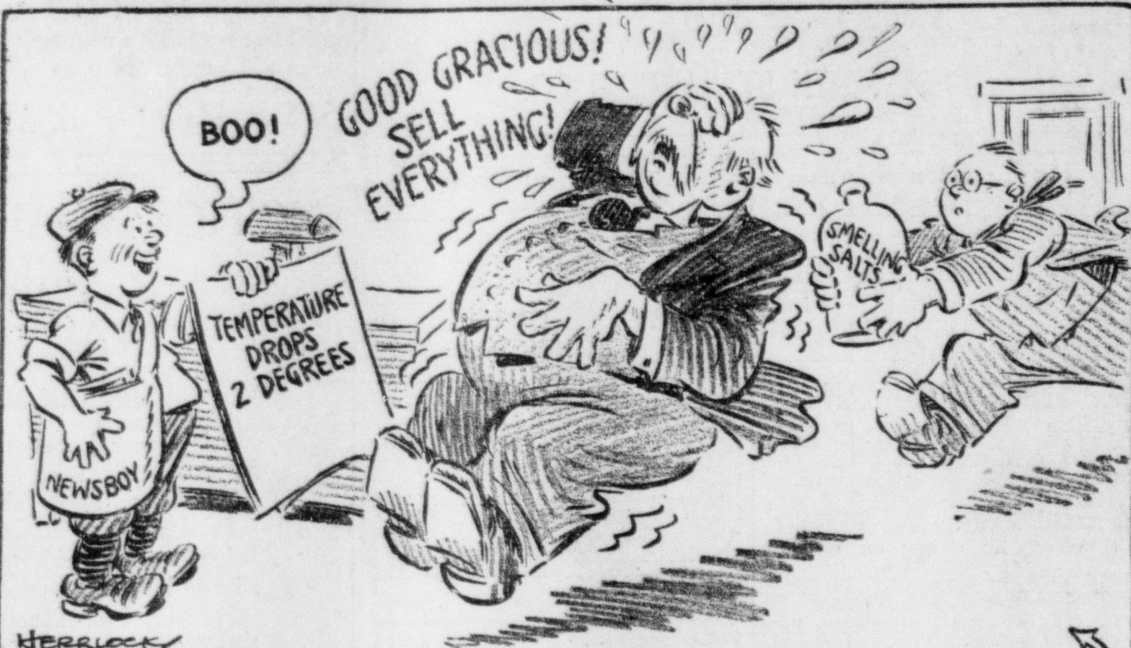

Satan, who is the "Mysterious Stranger," tells Nikolaus, Seppi and Theodor, the three Austrian boys who became his confidants, the story of war as follows: "There has never been a just war, never an honorable one—on the part of the instigator of the war. The loud little handful—as usual—will shout for the war. The pulpits will—warily and cautiously—object, at first; the great, big, dull bulk of the nation will rub its sleepy eyes and try to make out why there should be a war, and will say, earnestly and indignantly, 'It is unjust and dishonorable, and there is no necessity for it.'"

Then the handful will shout louder. A few fair men on the other side will argue and reason against the war with speech and pen, and at first will have a hearing and be applauded; but it will not last long; those others will outshout them, and presently the anti-war audiences will thin out and lose popularity.

Must Be a Case of Dual Personality

IMPRESSION OF MR. WALL STREET (FROM POLITICAL ARTICLES)

IMPRESSION OF MR. WALL STREET (FROM THE FINANCIAL PAGES)

Before long you will see this curious thing: the speakers stoned from the platform, and free speech strangled by hordes of furious men who in their secret hearts are still at one with those stoned speakers—as earlier—but do not dare to say so.

And now the whole nation—pulpit and all—will take up the war-cry and shout itself hoarse, and mob any honest man who ventures to open his mouth; and presently such mouths will cease to open.

Next the statesmen will invent cheap lies, putting the blame upon the nation that is attacked, and every man will be glad of those conscience-soothing falsities, and will diligently study them, and refuse to examine any refutations of them; and thus he will by and by convince himself that the war is just, and will thank God for the better sleep he enjoys after this process of grotesque self-deception.

The Mysterious Stranger claimed that the human race "is made up of sheep . . . governed by minorities, seldom or never by majorities. It suppresses its feelings and beliefs and follows the handful that makes the most noise."

It will pay all of us to read the book and remember certain of its passages, for they will help us to interpret the happenings in our own and foreign nations at the present day.

General Hugh S. Johnson

NEW YORK CITY—The sons of Henry Morgenthau and John L. Lewis, are together entering Princeton—both with my deepest sympathy. Not being much of an Old Bold Mate of Henry Morgenthau, I don't know the Secretary's son. The other lad is a modest sturdy prep-school product who could well make his way in any company under the name of Walter Wigglespot. Friends tell me that Robert Morgenthau is exactly the same kind of kid.

The almost indescribable pathos of being the freshman son of a famous father is that almost nobody in college is willing to let it go at that. The boy probably never did anything to limit his right to do his stuff in his own way, but his father has done something that hedges him on every side and leaves him about as much privacy as a cigar-store Indian.

Tom Jones may have a little accident with a pop-bottle and a French Mayor and nobody hears about it but the gendarmes. If it happens to John Roosevelt, it is wired to the world before morning and a particularly splendid kid is made to look like a bum. That is an extreme example not to be construed as a plea for the freedom of youth to squirt carbon-dioxide on foreign dignitaries but it illustrates the point that the lot of the sons of celebrities is not a happy one.

At West Point in my day, my young brother barbarians took a very erroneous and even more cruelly active view of their duty toward such sons—namely that there was necessarily some sinital pride in their inherited relationship to glory which must be rubbed out for their soul's sake.

In my own or the preceding class were U. S. Grant III, the sons of such Civil War heroes as McArthur and Phil Sheridan and the brother of Hobson who tried to sink the Merrimac to bottle Cer-

Register Clearing House

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register

Several weeks ago our free lancer, Mr. Walker, published in the Register Clearing House a sharp rebuke of criticism, relative to a defense and eulogy of our Constitution, by the undersigned. The Santa Ana Register has spared neither time nor effort in describing and explaining that this great document, both in pictures and in writing. Therefore it would be mere repetition if one were to go into further detail. Suffice it to say that when one speaks or writes of the Constitution it goes without saying that one includes its amendments.

Without the first 10 amendments our Constitution would be but half baked. It would not stand the test of a finished product. The fathers of the Constitution were quite aware of this fact. That's why the first 10 amendments were added before it was fairly launched on its century old journey. May many more centuries follow in its wake and may it continue to be a guide and a blessing in maintaining the balance of our government and the independence of a great people.

Mr. Walker's criticism is appreciated, for without it one would not have had an opportunity of again parading the pen in behalf of our heritage.

These last 150 years the Constitution of the United States has been the cornerstone of our government. It has balanced the three dimensions of the legislative and the judicial. It has guided and protected a great people—yes, a peculiar people, who have provided an asylum for the downtrodden of other nations, for those who have sought freedom of conscience, of speech and of press. In spite of these outstanding facts, F. D. Roosevelt has sought repeatedly to tamper with this document that is claimed to be the most marvelous ever evolved from the brain of man. "The pattern for all future constitutions, the admiration of all ages."

Roosevelt's object in tampering with it, in swapping twisting and changing the Supreme Court, was and is for the purpose of making it subservient to the control of his dictatorial New Dealism.

Throughout the length and breadth of our land, people are awakening from a complacent dormancy. Party lines are obliterated. We are joining hands in a common defense of freedom of our country from a tyranny of dictatorship. The handwriting on the wall, "Thou art found wanting in keeping thy sacred promise, of defending and protecting the Constitution of the United States of America," should be a challenge to every American citizen. Whosoever our ship of state has unfurled its banner and unduly faced a tempest, this great and peculiar people has emerged through stress and strife and sailed victoriously into a safe harbor. This was the experience of the heroic warriors of last summer, of Wheeler and many others who unceasingly labored in defending and bolstering the highest tribunal of our land.

The turning point is at hand. The all-powerful magician at the helm of a great nation must recede, for want of restraining his uncontrollable ambition for the dictatorial power of a Hitler, a Mussolini or any other similar tyrant.

HELENA S. CHRISTIANSEN

vers's fleet in Santiago Harbor and got universally kissed for his failure.

It was had enough at the Academy for the publicity pretensions of any plebe, but the lives of these lads was continuous, unrelieved and ingenious torture. Young Phil Sheridan, when of duty, constantly carried a broomstick capped with the head of a hobby-horse. At the mere approach of an upper classman it was his "tock"—every plebe had one—to ride that stick furiously down the company street herding other plebes in the opposite direction with a wooden sword and yelling, "Turn boys turn, we're going back," as his father had done in the Shenandoah.

"Gee," he said drearily to me two years after that ordeal was over, "I wish I could have come to this Younsa (U. S. ) College under the name of 'Tavish'."

Ulysses Grant was in now one of the most distinguished officers in the Army and who then was, and still is, as shy as a rabbit, had to "sound off" the famous terse sentences of his grandfather—strung together in unintelligible monotone. Hobson sank more peanut-shell and watermelon-seed Merrimacs in tubs and basins than there are leaves on a tree—and kissed all the lamp-posts shiny. MacArthur's life was made trebly miserable for his father's sake.

It's a big burden for such boys. If they stumble they are "good stock gone to seed." If they shine, they're "being favored with all the breaks. Sometimes they don't have the satisfaction of being quite sure that their genuine little triumphs are all their own. They never know whether people who are kind are kidding them or using them, or merely curious as they might be to behold a three-headed calf or Bosco from Borneo.

It's lonely and sad but maybe it's necessary. Think what a cad a kid could be if he ever really got the idea that his father's reputation was all he needed to be a man. Fortunately that is far more rare than people cruelly assume but, unfortunately, it has happened.

WASH. LEADS IN PULP

OLYMPIA, Wash., (UP)—Washington produced more pulp than any other state in the union in 1936. Its mills turned out $27,549,329 worth of pulp, or $95,797 tons. Wisconsin was a few dollars behind second-place Maine, which produced $23,650,443 worth of pulp. Oregon's pulpwood industry was valued at $8,695,145.

WATER ARGUMENT DEEPENS

HUGO, OKla., (UP)—A water well 300 feet deep is being drilled one-half block from Hugo's business street by an irate water customer. Charles Hassing, manager of a creamery here, decided to produce his own water supply after he failed to agree on the amount of his monthly bill from the city water department.

LIP CANCER DEVELOPS MORE SLOWLY, IS FOUND SUSCEPTIBLE TO TREATMENT

This is the 12th in a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses cancer, its cause and methods of prevention and cure.

If there is any one form of cancer in which real hope of recovery ought to be offered, it is in cancer of the lip. These cancers are not likely to grow as fast as some of those elsewhere in the body. There are cases on record in which there has been a cancer of the lip 10 years or longer. The average length of time is two or three years.

Cancers of the lip are treated early by surgical operation, sometimes by the use of radium and the X-Ray. Out of 52 cases treated by surgery in one clinic, 33 patients were found to be quite well two or more years after the operation. In another clinic, cures were obtained in 90 out of 98 cases of cancer of the lip after surgical operation.

If, however, the patient with a cancer of the lip waits until all of the glands of the neck have become enlarged, his chance of recovery is much less.

Some years ago records were collected of more than 500 people with cancer of the lip which had been treated with radium. Of these more than 100 were dead but 208 were made completely free from the disease. 74 were found to be well from five to 10 years after the treatment with radium and 23 were well from three to five years after similar treatment.

Whether the treatment involves radium and X-ray, the use of surgery or of the electric knife, must be decided by the physician. One thing is certain. It is dangerous, if not fatal, to attempt to treat growths on the skin and the mouth with caustic pastes or to attempt to burn them out with acid.

Cancers in the throat sometimes may be cured if the growth is discovered before it has spread beyond the larynx. In some instances it is necessary to take out the larynx completely. In other instances X-ray and radium may be applied. The main factor here, as elsewhere in the body, is to determine the presence and nature of the condition at the earliest possible moment.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The president told the west he expected to have his budget balanced "by" the next fiscal year. Perhaps he meant "bye" . . . and bye. At any rate they noted he followed the politic phraseology of the keep-off-the-grass signs on the White House lawns. He did not say, "Positively."

The fact is no one here knows and no one can know. It all depends on a thousand vague things as how much the next two sessions of congress will appropriate and how good business is going to be for the next 18 months. You can get any kind of figures to show nearly any conclusion you may want, but no degree of assurance that any of them will pan out.

There seems to be a really serious movement within the administration, for the first time, to make things add up. They probably will be able to do it if they try hard enough, but their experts really do not know themselves what they will be able to work out.

The real purpose of Mr. R.'s remark may not have been to assuage budget fears, but to warn the west that the federal grab-bag is not going to be as fat for them as in recent years. That much, at least, is certain.

Widely hailed cutting of federal expenses lately means nothing. The government is "looking around" to see where it can save money," as treasury secretary Morgenthau says, but what he has seen so far has not been enlightening. Specifically: Mr. R.'s abolition of the national emergency council is a bookkeeping operation. A quiet curtailment is on within the Hopkins relief outfit but not to the point where anyone has been hurt yet. The president's edict ending PWA commitments is being advertised as saving $100,000,000 this year, but there is good reason for believing its savings will really be confined to future years.

The big items of government expense still are: Carrying the debt $14 billions (nothing can be done about this item); salaries $1.6 (announcement has been made that these will not be reduced); general public works $462 millions (congress will not cut this in a campaign year); veterans $585 millions (no one intends to touch this) and relief $1.5 billions (this and only this can be cut plenty if the will to do it exists.)

The question of what to do about silver is making a hamlet out of treasury secretary Morgenthau. His soliloquies for it, except by critics as more baffling than Leslie Howard's and equal to John Barrymore's.

Several silver senators came to town on the run recently. They were alarmed about the expiration of the silver proclamation three months hence, and wanted some assurances about continuance of the domestic bounty. One of them, at least, went home professing privately to be satisfied with what he was able to find out.

The situation seems to be this: Mr. Morgenthau does not like the silver idea. There was never any justification for it, except politics. He would like to stop it or reduce the price, but politics is not right now. There are still 18 senators from 9 silver states. Many are up for reelection next year. Some were prominent in the Supreme Court fight.

Under Mr. Roosevelt's new doctrine of spreading peace within the Democratic party, especially in the senate branch, the silver bounty probably will be continued.

Best propaganda of the week: Mussolini and Hitler standing together announcing: "Soon all Europe will be Fascist."

Fascism in Italy and Germany as well as Communism in Russia were the last desperate chances taken by nations which were bankrupt financially, morally and physically. Neither alternative has ever been accepted, by any nation with a well-led government, whether it be a monarchy, republic or a what not. If either alternative is to spread in Europe, chaos must spread first.

Everyone knows this, but by their artful propaganda, the dictators manage to make the world believe they have created something desirable which people would accept willingly.

They even have some of the best American thinkers, writing books, seriously weighing the advantages and disadvantages of their so-called governments, and, of course, rejecting them. But the success of their propaganda is apparent in the fact that any thinkers of any successful nation weigh them all.

Best excuse of the week: Justice Black declining to say anything for fear he might be misquoted.

Mr. Black has made two decisions since he was sworn in. He decided not to say anything in London. He decided not to say anything when he got off the boat.

The best that Mr. Roosevelt's friends are hoping is that his decisions from the bench will continue to follow the same precedent.

Little Benny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

This afternoon in school Miss Kitty banged her desk with her ruler, saying, "I'm sure I don't want to spoil anybody's pleasure, but on the other hand certain pupils in this class seem to be slightly confused in the difference between pleasure and duty. There's an appropriate time for each of them and the suitable time for one is generally not the suitable time for the other. Charlie Simkins, you seem to be enjoying the exercise of your power of speech, suppose you exercise it a little further by rising and giving the class an illustration of the difference between pleasure and duty, she said."

Yes, said, Puds Simkins said. And he got up, saying, "It's a pleasure to sneeze when you feel like it, but it's a duty not to sneeze too sudden and too loud while your teacher is reading to the class."

I wasn't aware that sneezing came under the head of pleasure, but the latter part of your illustration is surely true, so we'll let it pass, Miss Kitty said. Benny Potts, you seem to be in a talking mood, perhaps you would like to give us your idea of the difference between pleasure and duty. Which I did, saying, "It's a pleasure to except a present but it's a duty to say thank you."

No doubt it is, but it should also be likewise a pleasure, Miss Kitty said. Perhaps I'd better give you an illustration myself, more appropriate to the occasion. It's a pleasure to converse idly with a friend on your own front porch, but it's a duty to abstain from that very same pleasure in the classroom. And why is it a duty, Shorty—judge said, Because you'll probably be cast away and kept after school."

Those who consider Howard's answer correct will raise their hands, Miss Kitty said. Which everybody did including Shorty, and Miss Kitty said such a class and started the arithmetic lesson.

BARBS

A Los Angeles footprint expert's shoes were stolen at a convention. It's safe to guess that thereafter he was more on his toes.

The firm that promises a filling of ink for every pen sold brings the question of whether that would be in competition with the postoffice.
